U.S. Scores New First In Space Race

Scientists Hail Communications Satellite Orbit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, on one of its proudest days in the space age, Friday sent into orbit high above the earth a huge balloon that could lead to new marvels of world communication.

The balloon, tall as a 10-story building but with a skin thinner than the plastic wrapping on a pack of cigarettes, was shot more than 1,000 miles skyward from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

BOUNCE IKE'S VOICE

Quickly, a test bounced President Eisenhower's recorded voice by radio beam from California up to the balloon and down to New Jersey. The balloon, dubbed Echo 1, served as a sort of backboard, or billboard cushion.

Delighted scientists and military men were encouraged to anticipate the day when messages and pictures of all sorts can be carried unlimited distances clearly and instantly.

The communications satellite, the biggest but not the heaviest of all man-made satellites, roomed to its success on a day in which the United States laid claim to other fantastic feats in sky and space.

1. An Air Force test pilot, Maj. Robert M. White, hurtled his X-15 plane 131,000 feet above the earth—more than 24 miles and the highest point man has ever reached in recorded history.

White radioed back from the edge of space to his comrades at Edwards Air Force Base in California: "This is really fantastic up here."

2. After 12 failures, the Air Force rejoiced over the recovery of a space capsule fired from an orbiting satellite. A Navy frogman, Robert W. Carroll, 22, tied a line from a helicopter to the capsule in the Pacific near Hawaii Thursday and earned a footnote in history for himself.

The recovery of the instrument-packed capsule carried forward—perhaps further than the Soviet Union has gone—the work to send a man on a roundtrip into space, and to create a dependable eye-in-the-sky system for knowing what's going on everywhere.

Atlas, Polaris Missiles Score New Successes

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) Atlas and Polaris, two powerful missiles the United States is counting on to help deter an enemy from risking nuclear attack, scored important test flight successes Friday.

The pair of military launchings made it three successes in as many firings at this busy missile test center Friday. Earlier, government scientists lofted a huge balloon communications satellite into orbit as a reflector for radio signals and voice messages.

NOSE CONE SINKS

The only black mark on an otherwise perfect day was the failure to recover the Atlas' instrument-encased nose cone. The Air Force said it sank in the South Atlantic after the big intercontinental-range missile rumbled 5,000 miles to a target zone off the island of Ascension.

The 112-ton cone carried a group of radiation-study experiments to take readings in the lower region of the Van Allen radiation belt. Ships and planes raced to the impact area but found no sign of the cone.

However, recovery was a secondary objective. Main goals were to check the general performance of the Atlas and its internal-or built-in—guidance system.

The guidance system is being readied for an advanced Atlas series scheduled to begin testing here within a few weeks. Main advantage of this guidance over the radio-command system used on present operational Atlases is that it permits salvo firing of all missiles deployed at one base.

Blast On Navy Ship Kills Five

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—At least five men were reported killed Friday night in an explosion and fire aboard a Navy minesweeper in the Atlantic off Savannah, Ga.

The Navy's mine base here confirmed the explosion and said it understood five crewmen were dead. It did not mention injuries. The Coast Guard at Savannah said the minesweeper, the Exultant, was about 50 miles off Brunswick, Ga., and some 70 miles southeast of Savannah.

REBELS STAGE ATTACK

Castro Tightens Rules On Travel To Halt Exodus

HAVANA (UPI) — The Castro government acted Friday to halt the mass exodus of residents from Cuba by announcing new and tighter official restrictions on travel.

On the military front the government radio reported a counter - revolutionary armed band attacked an army barracks at Jatibonice in Camaguey Province, killing one soldier. The broadcast said one raider was killed and the other seven were captured.

The travel restrictions apply to everyone 12 years or older, including nationals, Cubans abroad and foreign residents regardless of nationality.

CANCELS ALL PERMITS

The drastic measures were invoked to stem the emigration trend which has reduced the American colony in Cuba to fewer than 2,000 persons as compared to more than 6,000 in pre-Castro years, and to discourage Cubans from seeking permanent residence abroad.

(The U.S. State Department disclosed recently that Cuban visa applications to enter the United States have piled up to such an unprecedented extent that applicants must wait nine months for them.)

The edict cancelled all existing travel permits as of Aug. 22 and stipulated that only those with new official passes may leave or re-enter the country after that date.

The old exit permits, which also authorized re-entry, were permanent, without a time limit, but the new passes will be valid for only 12 months.

Tourists with the exception of visiting Cubans are exempted from the new regulations. However, political unrest and strict currency regulations requiring American visitors to change their dollars into Cuban pesos have slashed Cuba's once prosperous trade.

The regulations were announced by the national police which said applicants for exit permits could apply only on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings. Travel agencies, which have solicited the permits for their clients in the past on an unrestricted basis, were told they could not request more than 12 at a time henceforth.

POLICE INVESTIGATING

'Mystery Comas' Of Girls Solved

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The mystery of the two sleeping beauties has been exploded.

Traces of a sleep-inducing drug have been found in blood tests on the two young girls, whose mysterious comas had puzzled doctors for several months, authorities reported Friday.

Police are investigating the question of who gave barbiturates to Bernadette and Venita Fratanio and why.

Police Inspector Richard R. Wagner assigned a team of detectives, who started by questioning the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent N. Fratanio.

HAS NO DOUBTS

Coroner Samuel R. Gerber said there was no doubt the barbiturates caused the long slumbers, which overtook Bernadette, 3, and Venita, 5, at unexpected periods.

The case had puzzled medical men at the Neurological Institute of Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York, where Bernadette spent two weeks earlier this year.

Bernadette has been in Mount Sinai Hospital since last September, and Venita joined her July 9 after her mother reported that the child complained of dizziness. After being taken to the hospital, Venita fell into a deep slumber.

Two Fratanio boys, Joseph, 7, and James, 4, showed none of

Shotgun Blast Kills State Man

BATON ROUGE (AP) — John (Jack) Ward, 48, was killed Friday when a shotgun he was removing from the trunk of his automobile discharged accidentally, police said.

The accident happened in front of his home here. The blast struck Ward in the face.

Ward had been employed by T. L. James and Co. Survivors included his wife and a son.

Sara Roosevelt Dies Of Injuries

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—Sara Roosevelt, 15, daughter of John Roosevelt and granddaughter of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, died Friday, apparently of head injuries suffered in a fall from a horse.

The girl, who was known as Sally, had been vacationing at a camp in the Adirondacks.

State police said the girl fell while horseback riding Thursday at Moss Lake Camp near Old Forge. She did not appear at the time to have suffered any injury, they reported.

Friday, while mountain climbing, Sally fainted. She was dead on arrival at St. Luke's Memorial Hospital Center in Utica, about 50 miles south of Old Forge.

Soviet Union Expels Third U.S. Tourist

Kansas Student Is Accused Of Subversive Acts

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union expelled a Kansas tourist Friday, the third American accused of spying or subversive activities in the week before the espionage trial of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers.

The Kremlin charged James Shultz, 21, of Otis, Kan., gave American publications, Bittles and clothes to a citizen in the Ukraine to get him to "agitate" against the Soviet Union.

SON OF MINISTER

Shultz, who will be a senior this fall at Southwestern College in Winfield, Kan., is the son of a Methodist minister. He is here on a youth tour sponsored by the YMCA and YWCA. The embassy said the 13-member party spent three weeks with a world youth friendship mission near Kiev, the Ukrainian capital. The party is now in Leningrad and Shultz is presumed to have left the country.

(The new expulsion appeared to be part of a Soviet campaign— which the U. S. State Department Thursday called "somewhat hysterical"—to arouse world opinion before Powers' trial starts next Wednesday.)

The family of the imprisoned pilot—Oliver W. and Ida Powers of Pound, Va.—are en route here with a doctor and a friend to witness next week's trial.

Barbara Moore Powers, the pilot's wife, is due here Saturday afternoon with her mother and two lawyers.

The Soviet youth paper, Komsomolskaya Pravda, said Shultz found in Kiev "a rascal ready to sell his honor for foreign rags"— a reference to the practice of many Russians who beg tourists to sell them their clothing.

In return for the clothing, said the paper, Shultz demanded that the Ukrainian "carry on anti-Soviet agitation." The newspaper said the American "immediately gave prepayment" of three Bibles, a book, a magazine of "provocative material" and the clothes.

This act, Komsomolskaya Pravda went on "caused indignation among honest people and he— Shultz—is being expelled. He forgot the elementary rules of decency and politeness."

Nevertheless, it added: "The doors of the Soviet Union are

U.N. Planning Civilian Expert Aid For Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld has mapped a far-reaching civilian expert aid program to be carried out in the Congo under the protection of U.N. armed forces, his office disclosed Friday.

Experts in agriculture, finance, foreign trade, health and seven other branches of government operation are being mustered under direction of Sture Linner, the U.N. civilian operation chief. Their work would go beyond present programs of the U.N. specialized agencies in those fields, the report said.

The experts, many of them from U.N. specialized agencies, will operate when and as the Congo government puts in a request for their specific skills, Hammarskjöld said. He described it as a new kind of U.N. operation to aid a young country on higher levels of administrative procedure.

Hammarskjöld disclosed special stress has been put on the Congo's problem of unemployment.

ATOMIC-ARMED SATELLITES?

U. S. Plants Awesome Ideas

By JOHN BARBOUR

Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States has in two days planted these awesome ideas in space:

The future of worldwide television, radio and telephone calls.

The possibility of living under atomic - armed satellites that circle the earth waiting for a push - button command to attack.

The prospect of first hand films of any spot on earth, taken by satellite cameras and dropped by command to men waiting below.

The similar prospect for films of the moon, the planets, the stars; and

The ultimate possibility that man himself may make his first escape from space in the same way that an experimental capsule dropped to earth and was recovered from the Discoverer satellite Thursday.

Even though the Air Force would have liked greater accuracy in its capsule drop, it indicates the practicability of dropping objects accurately from satellites to earth.

This can be designed into many breeds of satellites — those used to conduct war, and those to conduct peaceful work.

If it is weapons men want, they could design a battery of such satellites to blanket potential enemy nations with the shadow of instant nuclear attack.

The Discoverer success and Friday's orbiting of a Project Echo satellite — a radio mirror in the sky — are seeds of many future space projects.

One day there may be a dozen or more of the Echo satellites circling the earth — mirrors from which to bounce static free radio and television messages anywhere on earth.

They could provide as - it happens pictures of a coronation, the Olympics, political riots in a distant nation.

But this is not all. Before the month is out the United States hopes to orbit a Project Courier satellite — a battery of high - speed tape recorders in space. It would be a sort of space secretary to take down space letters and deliver them again.

A space letter from Tokyo to New York or Moscow to Los Angeles could be delivered in minutes.

Eventually three or four such satellites hung in stationary orbits over the earth could act as switchboards, relaying messages anywhere on earth.

These are the first steps toward turning the silent, empty world of space into a busy, really useful world for man. These experiments show that such possibilities are no longer fancy or science fiction, but real and ready.

So far the Soviet Union has not performed such experiments, and may not presently have the capability. However its bigger rockets give it the potential of going beyond these experiments when the effort is applied.

Mysterious Poison Gas Strikes City

LA PORTE, Tex. (AP) — This city suffered for 90 terrifying minutes Friday from a mysterious poison gas. Nausea, vomiting and headaches seized more than 40 persons and 500 families fled their homes.

No fatalities occurred but at least seven persons lapsed into unconsciousness.

Authorities appeared to settle on a World War I battle gas—phosgene—as the cause, although this was not immediately established definitely.

SUSPECT PHOSGENE

Dr. Walter Quebedeaux, Harris County antipollution director, was one of those suspecting phosgene, a colorless product.

Those overcome said they were surrounded by the smell of "rotten potatoes."

Officials of the S&W chemical plant a mile from downtown La Porte, denied their plant was the cause although saying the plant manufactures phosgene.

Nelson E. Lewis, plant manager said the gas did not come from his establishment and the plant is not shut down.

"Someone apparently pushed the panic button in La Porte," Lewis told newsmen. "We don't know anything about it. We haven't smelled anything yet." He would not say to whom he sells the phosgene or what it is used for.

Mrs. Ray Gresham said her children were playing in the front yard when she realized something was wrong.

"They came in coughing and choking," she said. "The next thing I knew I was deathly sick."

Within minutes the area was one of fright and panic. Other children in other yards and homes were overcome.

Dr. Nelson E. Dunn said he treated at least 20 persons. All suffered nausea, headaches and "choking feeling."

AFTER NEW ROW

Civil Rights Push Slows In Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republicans temporarily abandoned their parliamentary maneuvering on behalf of civil rights legislation Friday following another explosive row on the Senate floor.

The new set-to occurred between Sen. Richard B. Russell, (D - Ga.), chief strategist for Senate Southerners and Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) a leading supporter of strong civil rights legislation.

DEFER SHOWDOWN

The New Yorker said he and his associates had decided to "defer a showdown to a later time, the Democratic majority having already recorded itself before the country as refusing to take up civil rights now." He referred to the Senate's decision Tuesday to kill President Eisenhower's civil rights proposals.

Noting that Democratic leaders had contended a civil rights filibuster would tie up other vital legislation, Javits said "We will soon see what we may expect in the way of accomplished legislation on the items dubbed 'must' by the majority."

Instead, it approved a separate system of federal and state grants which permit state and local agencies to help needy aged persons meet these costs.

Many Democrats, including the party's presidential ticket, favor a much broader plan which would be linked to the Social Security system.

The speedup in committee action may have resulted from a decision of Senate Democratic leaders to support a proposal by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM), regarded as more moderate than other efforts to link medical care with Social Security.

Group To Plan

Elector Slate

BATON ROUGE (AP) — A leader of the States Rights wing of the Louisiana Democratic party, with 15 days left to act, said Friday a set of independent electors will be on the ballot in the Nov. 8 presidential election.

Rep. John Garrett of Claiborne Parish said a meeting will be held early next week by a group in his area dissatisfied with the platforms of both major national parties.

Garrett, reached at his office in Haynesville, declined to reveal the time and place of the meeting during a telephone interview.

"We are going to discuss and formulate plans for the coming presidential election," he said. "I'm sure there is going to be another slate of electors—whether or not pledged is to be decided."

These same members, meeting behind closed doors with one Republican, Rep. Page Belcher of Oklahoma, concluded earlier in the day that there will be no sweeping farm legislation this year.

Other House members who met with Kennedy and Johnson included Reps. W. R. Pogue (D-Tex.), Carl Albert (D-Okla.), E. C. Gathings (D-Ark.), and Lester B. Johnson (D-Wis.).

Goldwater, Holland Say No To Pleas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy sought in vain Friday night to persuade opponents of the politically controversial minimum wage bill to permit an early vote "on at least one amendment."

The Democratic presidential nominee ran into a stone wall of opposition from Sens. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) and Spessard L. Holland (D-Fla.).

Kennedy protested that if the Senate doesn't start voting on a stack of amendments "it is not going to be possible" to move on to other legislation.

NOT ACCEPTING BLAME

Goldwater, refusing to accept blame for any delay, said: "I realize the majority leader—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson—and Sen. Kennedy are anxious to get on the way but we've had all year to get on the minimum wage bill."

Goldwater added that when voting on amendments starts, he thought the Senate would move with relative speed. "But," he said, "if it takes, two, three, four or five days—that's the way the ball bounces."

Holland, who talked nearly three hours on an amendment to exempt employees of local stores and service establishments from coverage under provisions bringing five million new workers under the wage-hour law at an initial minimum of $1, would not call it up for a vote.

Instead, he offered another amendment, which would limit the powers of the secretary of labor over agricultural workers.

The Senate is to meet again at

Kennedy Agrees Farm Bill Out This Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy reportedly agreed with House members Friday that it is not feasible to try to pass a general farm bill in this session of Congress.

Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, and his running mate, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, met with five House Democrats to discuss the farm situation.

Previously, Chairman Harold D. Cooley (D-N.C.) of the House Agriculture Committee said he and other House agriculture leaders concluded it is too late in the year to try to force an increase in price support levels now.

Although there was no announcement of any decisions at the Kennedy-Johnson meeting with the House members it seemed obvious to all concerned that Democrats will not attempt to push through a new farm program in the current session.

Kennedy said in Haynesville, Mass., last week that while the prospects for major farm legislation looked dim in the abbreviated session, he was not writing off the possibility of some action.

However, Senate leaders pointed out that if the House committee is not in a mood to act, the Senate would only be spinning its wheels if it tried to produce a bill.

Other House members who met with Kennedy and Johnson included Reps. W. R. Pogue (D-Tex.), Carl Albert (D-Okla.), E. C. Gathings (D-Ark.), and Lester B. Johnson (D-Wis.).

He indicated further tests will be performed before the hospital. Attractive, dark-haired Lillian Frantonio, who accompanied Bernadette to New York for tests at the Neurological Institute, gave birth to a fifth child Tuesday night in another hospital.

Mount Sinai Hospital officials called Coroner Gerber into the case a week ago, and his office started making blood tests on Bernadette the next day.

At different times in the four-day period during which tests were made, significant traces of barbiturate were found in the children's blood, Gerber said. At other times little or no trace was found.

Tests early Tuesday afternoon turned up significant traces of barbiturate in both children, but Wednesday morning's test showed only insignificant traces, the coroner said.

Wednesday both children were placed in isolation and will remain there until police say otherwise, a hospital spokesman said.

Job Seekers In Monroe Increase By 8.1 Percent

Applications for employment with the Monroe office of the Louisiana Division of Employment Security increased 8.1 percent in June over May, according to the Louisiana Business Review.

There was a drop of 24.6 percent in benefits paid to workers during the same period however.

There was also a drop of 14 percent in the number of jobs secured through the office for the same period.

Active applications in June were 2,842; May, 2,628; total referrals, June 711, May 719; job placements, June 447, May 520.

Benefits paid through the office, June 1960, $107,733; May 1960, $142,530; and June 1959, $121,336.

Over the state for June there were 53,399 applications on file, up 5.8 percent over May; placements totaled, 6,168, down 8.6 percent from May.

Statewide compensation payments in June 1960 were $2,961,346, down 7.5 percent 7.8 percent from May 1960 but 18.3 percent greater than June 1959.

Sen. Kennedy Confers With Negro Leader

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy conferred Friday with the president of the nation's largest group of Negro Baptist ministers. The churchman said afterward that he was "greatly impressed" by the candidate.

The minister, Dr. Joseph H. Jackson of Chicago, said he has not yet decided, however, whether to support Kennedy or Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the GOP nominee. Jackson, a Republican, said he will make up his mind as the campaign progresses.

Kennedy also announced the appointment of Rep. Aime J. Forand, D-R.I., to head a "senior citizens for Kennedy" committee in the campaign.

He made the appointment after he and Forand agreed in a conference that medical care for the aged should be financed through the Social Security system. Forand is the author of a controversial labor-backed bill to put such a Social Security plan into effect.

open and will remain open to everybody who wants to get acquainted with its life and culture."

Since Powers was shot down May 1 high over the U.S.S.R., five Americans have been accused of spying or subversion. The number does not include two American airmen who survived the shooting down of an RB47 reconnaissance plane over the Barents Sea on July 1. The pilot was killed, three crewmen are missing and two were captured.

In addition to the most recent to be accused are:

Edwin Morrell, 30, of Salt Lake City, Utah—an exchange student accused of espionage after leaving the Soviet Union late in July. The Russians said he gave subversive literature to students and tried to ferret out secrets.

V. M. Slovov—an American by Soviet account, caught trying to get from the Soviet Union to Iran and accused of spying for U.S. intelligence in West Germany. The Kremlin announced Aug. 2 that he was captured two months before.

Col. Edwin M. Kirtan, 50, of Palo Alto, Calif.—air attaché at the U.S. Embassy ordered expelled last Monday. The Kremlin said he organized a spy apparatus and was offensive diplomatically.

Robert C. Christner, 27, of Sparks, Nev.—a tourist who said he was doing a masters thesis on Soviet railroads—ordered expelled Thursday. The Kremlin said he was spying by shooting photographs and taking notes.

Other gains for the June '59 to June '60 period were: Department store sales, up 12.7 percent; men's clothing sales, up 7.6 percent; women's clothing sales, up 1.4 percent; building material sales, up 18.9 percent; auto supplies and accessories, up 16.3 percent; postal receipts, up 14.2 percent; wholesale grocery sales, up 2.2 percent; manufacturing sales, up 7.3 percent; electric power consumption, up 15.9 percent; telephones in service, up 7.5 percent; bank deposits, up 1.5 percent; bank debits, up 4.5 percent.

Losses for the June to June period were also recorded in: retail drug sales, down 2.1; freight carloadings, down 10.8; and unemployment, benefit payments, down 11.2 percent.

Other gains in the May - June 1960 period were: furniture sales, up 19.4; building material sales, up 13.9; auto supplies and accessories, up 1.1; postal receipts, up 7.4; wholesale grocery sales, up 8.6; manufacturing sales, up 14.1; telephones in service, up 0.3; bank deposits, up 4.3.

Losses for May - June this year were cited for: department store sales, down 4.2; retail grocery sales, down 4.7; retail drug sales, down 5.7; men's clothing sales, down 13.9; freight carloadings, down 9.5; air express shipments, down 1.5; and bank debits, down 5.2.

Nixon To Speak In Maine Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon decided Friday to carry his presidential campaign into Maine Saturday and to invade the one-solid Democratic South next week with a one-day visit to North Carolina.

The GOP presidential nominee will fly to Portland, Maine, Saturday for a one-day celebration of the 200th anniversary of the founding of Cumberland County. He will make an informal speech, hold a news conference, and then fly back here Saturday night.

He will also fly to Greensboro, N.C., next Wednesday to attend a Republican rally billed as a "skating and coffee evening with Pat and Dick." The vice president and his wife will return here immediately after the rally.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said both trips might be cancelled if close Senate votes were in prospect and Nixon might be needed to break a tie. Breaking ties is the vice president's sole voting function under the Constitution.

SATELLITE PASSES

Local Residents See Echo Balloon

The 1,000-mile-high communications satellite hurtled into space by the United States Friday swept over the Twin Cities just after 9 last night. "It looked like a real bright star," was the widespread comment here.

Phones at the Morning World began ringing at 9:11 p.m., with reports of the huge, silvery balloon.

Here's what they had to say:

A. P. Knight, 219 Carter Dr., West Monroe, an employee of the Louisiana Department of Agriculture: "We were looking for it. It was a real bright object... it cut up out of the southwest going to the northeast."

Time for the sighting was about four minutes, from the moment the satellite appeared on the horizon until it passed out of sight.

"It seemed like a big bright star," Knight continued. "I've seen airplanes at night, but they aren't that bright and don't move that steadily."

With him were his wife, two sons, and daughter-in-law.

Jeanie Taylor, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Taylor, 903 S. Seventh St., Monroe: "It looked like a second or third dimension star. I could see it for about five or six minutes. It was kind of a reddish, clear color... the lightest red."

Her grandmother, Mrs. Grace M. Beckham, 406 Stone Ave., and a Mr. Kinley also saw the object pass in a southwest to northeast direction.

Mrs. Bob Hines, nurse, saw the object pass from a window at St. Francis hospital.

"Someone said the satellite was passing over. I looked out the window and saw it — it looked like a star," she mentioned.

Ronnie Castleton, 318 Splane Dr., West Monroe, also reported sighting the satellite at 9:05 p.m. "It took about five minutes, going from southwest to northeast."

Leaders In Business Here Listed

Retail hardware sales, up 45.7 percent; building permit values, up 32.9 percent, and furniture sales, up 19.8 percent led the Monroe business activity from June 1960 over June 1959, the Louisiana Business Review reports.

Leading the losses for the same period were shoe store sales, down 22.4 percent; retail grocery sales, down 15.7 percent, and air express shipments, down 13.0 percent.

Leading gains for the May - June 1960 period were in building permit values, up 47.7 percent, retail hardware sales, up 34.8 percent, and electric power consumption, up 25.5 percent.

Biggest losses for this period were in unemployment benefit payments, down 24.6 percent, shoe store sales, down 22.9 percent, and women's clothing sales, down 20.2 percent.

Other gains for the June '59 to June '60 period were: Department store sales, up 12.7 percent; men's clothing sales, up 7.6 percent; women's clothing sales, up 1.4 percent; building material sales, up 18.9 percent; auto supplies and accessories, up 16.3 percent; postal receipts, up 14.2 percent; wholesale grocery sales, up 2.2 percent; manufacturing sales, up 7.3 percent; electric power consumption, up 15.9 percent; telephones in service, up 7.5 percent; bank deposits, up 1.5 percent; bank debits, up 4.5 percent.

Losses for the June to June period were also recorded in: retail drug sales, down 2.1; freight carloadings, down 10.8; and unemployment, benefit payments, down 11.2 percent.

Other gains in the May - June 1960 period were: furniture sales, up 19.4; building material sales, up 13.9; auto supplies and accessories, up 1.1; postal receipts, up 7.4; wholesale grocery sales, up 8.6; manufacturing sales, up 14.1; telephones in service, up 0.3; bank deposits, up 4.3.

Losses for May - June this year were cited for: department store sales, down 4.2; retail grocery sales, down 4.7; retail drug sales, down 5.7; men's clothing sales, down 13.9; freight carloadings, down 9.5; air express shipments, down 1.5; and bank debits, down 5.2.

Wife Of Pilot Flies To Russia

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Francis Gary Powers flew out of Idlewild Airport Friday night for her husband's Moscow espionage trial. She said she would appear in his behalf to the Soviet people and their premier, Nikita Khrushchev.

"I don't believe my husband should be tried," Mrs. Powers said. "He was just sent as a reconnaissance scout and he was just doing as he was told."

The tall, dark-haired wife of the U2 pilot was accompanied aboard a plane to Brussels by a Richmond, Va., attorney, Alex W. Parker.

Leading 'Call Girl' Madame Gets Sentence

NEW YORK (AP)—Manhattan's leading madame, weeping behind dark glasses, was sent to federal prison for two years Friday for trafficking internationally with a stable of call girls. She also was ordered to leave the country, after her term is completed.

She is Elizabeth Spedding, 45, a tall blonde who used the title "countess" to lend class to her $100,000-a-year racket. She claimed to be the ex-wife of a Romanian count.

The FBI arrested Miss Spedding May 17 and seized eight address books listing the names of nearly 600 male customers. Asst. U. S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright: "They also found 90 calling cards identifiable with the names of gentlemen prominent in politics and the sporting world."

She also had a list of 267 girls, whom she assigned on a $300-a-date basis from her plush Fifth Avenue apartment overlooking Central Park. The girls were dispatched as far afield as Miami Beach, Atlantic City, Caracas and Havana in pursuit of their profession.

Miss Spedding kept half of the fees collected by her girls.

The President's message invited all countries to make similar experiments with the balloon. However, space officials doubted that the Soviet Union could try an experiment with it, since its orbit crosses only the southern tip of that nation.

France and Britain have plans to try to bounce some messages off Echo.

T. Keith Glenman, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said the recording he took to Eisenhower was so strong and clear that the President seemed not at first to realize it had been sent to the satellite and back.

The balloon, folded in accordion pleats in the nose cone of a towering three-stage Thor-Delta rocket, was carried upward at 4:39 a.m. At 6:45, NASA announced it was in orbit. Glenman called the launching "well-nigh perfect."

Gases helped inflate the great aluminum-coated plastic ball.

As it whirled around the world, observers on the Pacific Coast reported in the early morning darkness that it was shining silver in times brighter than the North Star. William J. O'Sullivan, designer of the satellite, said it would be as bright as Vega, the brightest star.

The Eisenhower message was beamed up from Goldstone, Calif., where NASA has a jet propulsion laboratory tracking station. It bounced back to the Bell Telephone Laboratories at Holmdel, N. J.

Dr. Abe Silverstein, director of NASA's space flight program, said Echo I could relay signals between New Jersey and London as easily as it did between California and New Jersey.

Silverstein said the orbit is between altitudes of 1,108 and 1,160 miles and the time it takes to flash around the world is 121.6 minutes. This is less than two minutes off the planned time of an even two hours.

Scientists timed the launching so that Echo I will be in continuous sunlight for about two weeks. Once it gets out of the sun's warmth, it may deteriorate through reversion of its gases to a solid mass.

Hopes are that after its travel through a period of darkness, it could regain full inflation on returning to sunlight. Full inflation is needed for communication, so that signals can be reflected uniformly from the surface.

After hearing Jeffress, the committee decided to recount returns from the entire county at the expense of Jeffress and incumbent Tom Durham.

Returns from the election, which was held Tuesday, showed Durham led Jeffress by 570 votes. Precincts from which Jeffress said returns were "irregular" are located at Portland, Boydell, Montrose, Parkdale and Wilmont.

Civitan Says Demos Right On Electors

Louisiana public funds examiner J. Hall LeBlanc, a high-ranking Civitan International official, Friday applauded the action of the State Democratic Committee Thursday in pledging its 10 electors to Sen. John F. Kennedy in the presidential race.

LeBlanc, in Monroe briefly, said he was speaking as a private citizen and not as a public official.

LeBlanc, senior vice president of Civitan, said he thought "it would be an injustice to the voters to deny them the right to vote for whichever national party candidate they choose."

He said he thought it would have been a better idea to put both presidential candidates on the ballot, plus an independent slate, than to utilize unpledged electors.

LeBlanc, of Alexandria, was on his way to Little Rock to attend a council meeting of the Arkansas Missouri district of Civitans.

Action at the meeting will include charter of a Civitan Club for Crossett, Ark.

Jimmy Herren, West Monroe, who is president of Louisiana's Civitan organization, was to accompany LeBlanc on the trip, and will represent the Louisiana district.

LeBlanc said he was speaking out on the electors issue "because good government is the heart of the Civitan purpose."

Snakes Cause Panic

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP)—A prayer meeting broke up in panic at an old mosque in nearby Menouf village when snakes slithered through cracks in the wall and bit four kneeling worshippers.

Aycock revealed that farmers were experiencing difficulty with cotton boll worms, which have spawned as a result of the weather conditions.

However, Aycock said, if the problem is met with effective poison methods, weather conditions will help production of the crop.

The agricultural official said that hay and pasture crops may be helped some by the rains and promote better grazing for cattle.

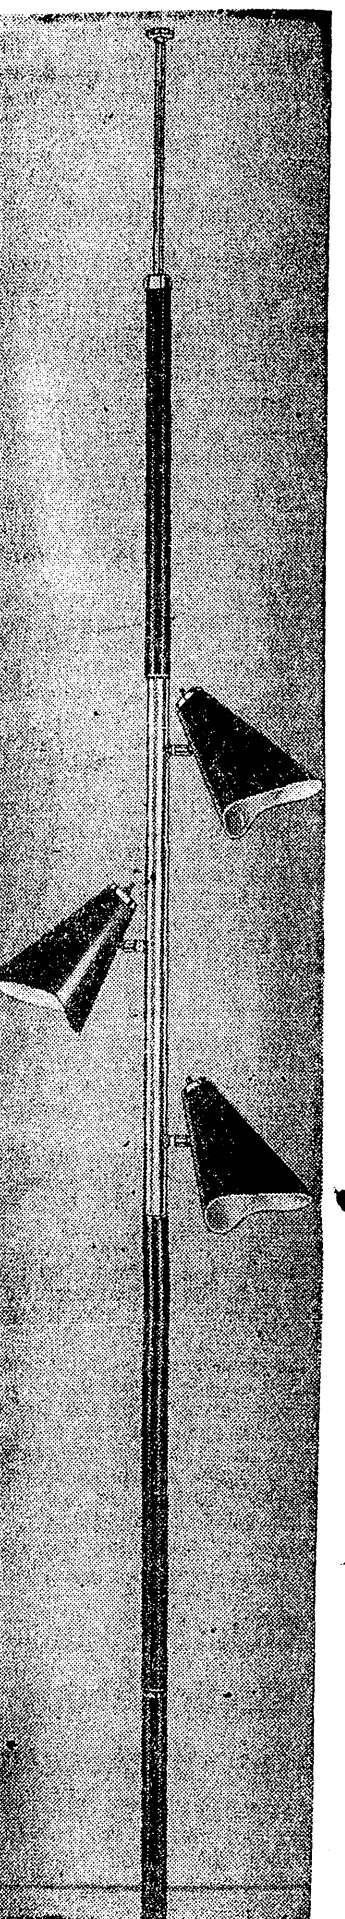

The cotton crop, however, is the focal point of attention as a result of recent weather conditions, he emphasized.

Rebel Regime Tries To Draft Laos Moderate

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Undeterred by one snub, Capt. Kong Le's rebel regime is trying to draft a moderate ex-premier, Prince Souvanna Phouma, for leadership to expand its influence in the countryside.

Radio Vientiane drummed away Friday on the theme of neutrality. It said the leaders of the Tuesday coup want the prince to head a government "that will incline neither toward the free world nor the Communist world."

Ashley Recount Set Today In Assessor Race

HAMBURG, Ark. (Special) — The Ashley County Democratic Central Committee today will recount votes of the hotly-contested tax assessor's race.

Action to take the recount was called for by the committee Friday when they met here and heard defeated candidate Nolen Jeffress challenge returns from five precincts.

After hearing Jeffress, the committee decided to recount returns from the entire county at the expense of Jeffress and incumbent Tom Durham.

Returns from the election, which was held Tuesday, showed Durham led Jeffress by 570 votes. Precincts from which Jeffress said returns were "irregular" are located at Portland, Boydell, Montrose, Parkdale and Wilmont.

ALFONSO GONZALEZ

Gonzalez Is Named New NE Teacher

Alfonso Gonzalez, formerly of San Diego State College, has been named to the geography faculty at Northeast Louisiana State College.

Gonzalez' appointment as assistant professor of geography in the Division of Liberal Arts was announced by Dr. W. R. Hammond, dean of liberal arts at Northeast. Gonzalez had been assistant professor of geography at the California school since 1957.

The new faculty member attended Rutgers University in New Jersey and City College of New York before receiving his bachelor's degree in geography from Clark University in Massachusetts in 1949. Gonzalez received his master's degree in geography from Northwestern University and since then has done work toward a doctorate at the University of Texas. He expects the degree to be awarded in 1961.

Gonzalez is a member of the Association of American Geographers, the National Council for Geographic Education, the California Council of Geography Teachers, the Association for Latin American Studies, the Hispanic Pacific Coast Council of Latin American Studies.

Gonzalez served in the Army in 1945-46 and in 1950-51. He is married and has one child.

Penney's Will Have New Credit Plan In City

A new credit plan will be available to customers of J. C. Penney Company beginning Oct. 3 of this year, Fred Beckett, manager, announced yesterday.

Beckett explained that this new account is a 30-day charge account which makes it possible for a customer to pay an account in full within 30 days without a service charge.

This plan also provides an option for customers who wish to spread payments over a longer period.

Each month a bill is received the customer can pay it in full, without service charge, or pay a designated amount and extend the balance over a longer period. Minimum amounts vary from one-fourth to one-sixth of the total bill.

Beckett emphasized that the credit plan will in no way change the company's long standing policy for customers who wish to continue to make their purchases on a cash - and - carry basis.

SECOND TRIAL DUE

Jury Deadlocks In Slaying Case

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP) — Former Sheriff Lawrence King Friday faced the ordeal of a second murder trial after a jury deadlocked in a love-triangle bludgeoning case.

King, 51, complaining bursitis and arthritis in his left arm and hand were "giving me fits," showed no emotion as the jury announced a 7-5 vote.

Mrs. William Kelly, whose husband was slain Jan. 2, was also silent.

Judge Henry Lee Rodgers said he would set the date for a new murder trial on Wednesday, despite a delay asked by King's attorneys. Rodgers said he hopes to begin hearing testimony again Aug. 22.

King is charged with hiring Alex Morris, a Negro ex-convict, to kill Kelly, his deputy, while Kelly worked on records in the Montgomery County sheriff's office.

Mrs. Kelly testified King attempted to have relations with Earl Townsend slipped into the of-her but she spurned his advances. She has been cleared of any guilt.

The white male jury retired at 4:30 p.m. Thursday. Jurors said their vote continued to deadlock each time they balloted. However, they did not indicate which verdict they favored.

Robert Earl Passon of Jackson and James Criddles of Avalon, cellmates of King, testified King admitted hiring Morris to kill Kelly. Passon is held on an armed robbery charge and Criddles was held for forgery.

Morris, 51, testified he and Pink Earl Townsend slipped into the of-was alone.

Morris said he hit Kelly with a hammer three times after Kelly threw Townsend over his shoulder. Morris then took Kelly's wallet on orders from King, Morris testified.

Defense atty. J. P. Coleman, former Mississippi governor, argued that the three men were not credible witnesses because of their criminal backgrounds.

"Would you like to go to the penitentiary on the testimony of a hot-check artist or a man convicted of armed robbery," Coleman asked the jurors.

The defense did not put any witnesses on the stand.

Coleman asked for a delay in a new trial to allow King to get hospital treatment for his arm ailment. Coleman said physicians indicated King had practically lost use of the arm.

King's married daughters, Mrs. W. E. Ingram and Mrs. Russell Fox, sat on either side of him as he waited for the jury to return a verdict. The jury came in at 10:48 a.m.

The state asked the death penalty. If found guilty and the jury recommends mercy or fails to agree on a penalty, King would get a life sentence.

Arrested On Exposure Charge

Monroe police arrested a 26-year-old West Monroe man, yesterday, charging him with indecent exposure.

A complainant called Monroe police yesterday stating that Thomas A. Davis, of West Monroe, had indecently exposed himself in the municipal swimming pool in Monroe.

He was arrested and placed on a $500 bond.

Dispersion Of Power

Civil Defense advisers have for a long time advocated dispersion of big metropolitan areas and industries as a key to survival. Now many conscientious statesmen are calling for a dispersion of the powers assumed by the federal government.

This dispersion of power is not so much a safeguard against a knockout blow from an enemy missile, but against collapse of government due to top-heaviness.

In a public statement, Representative Otto E. Passman of the Fifth Congressional District said recently: "It is deeply regrettable but true—and the recent national conventions of both the Democratic and Republican parties have clearly pointed out the dangerous trend — that our federal government is moving faster and faster, further and further away from the people. Centralized government in Washington is seriously threatening, through shameful responses to political expediency, to literally destroy our constitutional system of government."

Rep. Passman is not alone in his warning. As early as 1822, Thomas Jefferson wrote against over-centralization: "If ever this vast country is brought under a single government, it will be a government of corruption."

Since Jefferson's time, the "vast country" he spoke of has more than doubled in land area and increased many times over in population. In the next 15 years, however, the nation's economy will double in size over the 1959 figure.

The present gross national product now stands at $480 billion. By 1975, it is expected to reach $925 billion. Population may mushroom to an additional 55 million—a total of some 235 million.

By 1975, it is predicted there will be a 70 percent increase in the number of people between the ages of 18 and 24. These will be the ones concerned primarily with new home construction, new automobiles, and new services of every kind. They will be the household forming, family raising population which will create a groundswell of expansion in countless ways. Some 22 million more homes will be needed to house the total population.

With these changes will come advances in transportation and communications. These may create the illusion that state and regional problems could be transferred more easily to a central government, but this is not the case. The warning issued by Jefferson in 1822 against centralized government still holds.

In a carefully organized business, an increase in the number of employees to handle greater production leads to more organization at the department level. Why should government organization be any different?

Yet both major political parties have come up with platforms which tend to push federal controls further and further into "civil rights," education and employment. The extremist politicians have discovered these issues add up to kind of political magic number which assures a majority of votes in vital population areas of the nation.

But the power of winning elections is not the strength needed to hold the nation together during the years ahead. A powerful central government too often assumes as its responsibility decisions which free, responsible individuals once had the freedom to make for themselves.

A dispersion of power to states and communities becomes more necessary as the population expands.

Dubinsky's Protection

David Dubinsky, head of the Ladies Garment Workers Union, has developed a plan where members of his vast union can receive wages even if the firms they work for might go out of business.

The peppery labor leader has been working on the project for 10 years. Despite his labor and political activity on an international front, the huge slush fund necessary to pay such wages has been one of Dubinsky's pet projects.

The International Ladies Garment Workers Union—some 442,000 strong—will call this a "centralized severance fund." Employers who hire union members are expected to throw over $6,000,000 into the fund each year.

The Dubinsky theory is that no employee should suffer when a firm goes bankrupt or goes out of production for any reason. Therefore all new contracts have included a severance clause covering regional groups.

This is "cradle to the grave" thinking. Both small and large businessmen realize that life itself, not to mention business with all its hazards, is largely a matter of venture and gain—or loss.

Not only management, but most of the other labor organizations have no such built-in protective devices. In the final analysis, when the goose that lays the golden egg is dead, she quits laying eggs. If a firm goes out of business there is no way for that firm to have already provided for its employees' salaries for years to come.

Earlier this year, Charles Zimmerman of the New York Dress Board leaders discussed the matter of the fund with manufacturers just in the dress field. They already have $2 million in their district kitty for severance. There are similar agreements in the ladies' cloak field, children's dresses, lingerie and sportswear.

Now Dubinsky plans to merge all these pools of cash into one vast national fund. This could reach of $50 million within a decade. It would en effect mean the entire clothing industry would be guaranteeing continued wages of workers across the country whenever a firm liquidated.

The drive for unbroken wages is woven into a plan for keeping production within the union fold. In Los Angeles the Ladies Garment Workers insist on contracts which force the employer to promise he will not go into a non-union business in the same line, nor buy goods from a non-union firm, nor even own stock in such a firm. A legal suit is now in progress where one of those employers is suing to break such a contract.

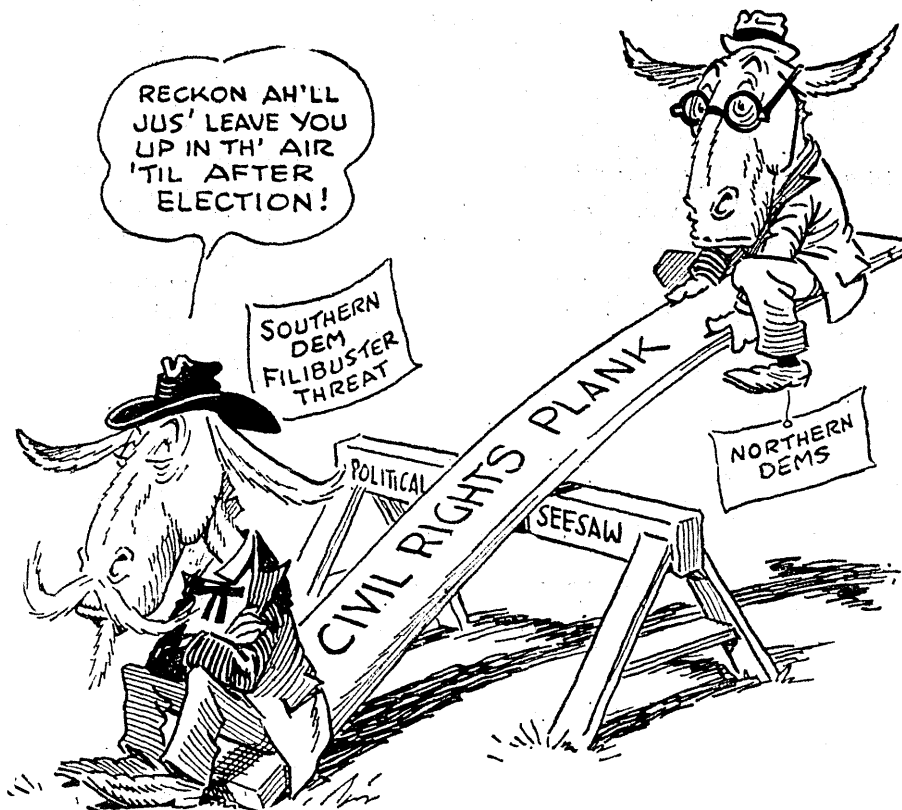

A union outfit called Lee Mar, apparel makers, went out of business last December. The principal stockholders of Lee Mar also own a non-union firm still in business named Gaylore of California. The Dubinsky union says therefore that though it has no contract with Gaylor, that firm is nonetheless subject to the union-management agreements with the old Lee Mar firm.

The trend of this new era in labor relations is boldly pointed out in Dubinsky's "Irish Case," which he won, incidentally. A Virginia firm started producing dresses in Ireland. Dubinsky put court pressure on for a fund which would continue to pay union workers of the firm who might be laid off because of competition from future Irish dress imports into the United States.

As the industrial barons of the previous century discovered, the general public and the government will only go so far with organizations which try to outlaw risk. Like the chicken who crosses the road, everyone must take a chance, even if only to get to the other side.

Massachusetts passed the nation's first compulsory school attendance law in 1852.

That Would Be Embarrassing

GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Congress Grants, Revokes

New Jersey, New York Slant On States Rights

Different From South

Consistency in thought and action is rare and to politicians not too important. For instance, Governor Meyner of New Jersey and Governor Rockefeller of New York do not believe in the kind of states rights that Governor Faubus of Arkansas believes in. Governor Faubus holds that with regard to all matters which are not literally and verbally delegated to the federal government by the Constitution, the federal government should mind its own business. The governors of New York and New Jersey would hold that the 14th and 15th Amendments forbid the designation of any American citizen as lesser than any other American citizen, but when it comes to the constitutional provision that the states shall make no compact without the consent of Congress, they raise the issue of states rights just as the governor of Arkansas raises the same issue with regard to the management of the schools of his state.

This is no new issue in American history and over it the only civil war in our history was fought. The war did not settle the basic quarrel over federalism because men's minds were diverted to the question of slavery. What the war did settle was that no state could secede from the Union and that the Congress of the United States could pass social legislation. It also settled the matter of states making compacts among themselves. The Confederacy was such a compact and when the Confederacy was defeated, that settled the question of compacts and treaties between states without the consent of Congress.

On the other hand, the daily business of the United States is such that states have to engage in joint enterprises. The Port of New York Authority is such an enterprise. There are many such enterprises in the United States. In some instances, such as the TVA, the federal government organizes its own management body. The forms vary, but in every instance that requires a joint operation in more than one state, the consent of Congress must be obtained. And the operation is forever subject to congressional scrutiny, because what Congress grants, it can revoke.

This issue is so important that in the Port of New York Authority's controversy with the House Judiciary Committee, appeal has now been made by both sides to the governors of all the states and to each member of the House of Representatives. Undoubtedly, before it is over the question will go to the courts because at stake are two congressional rights: the right to amend or revoke a consent to a compact between states and the right of Congress to investigate the operations of public bodies existing by congressional consent. The Congress will not give up either of these rights.

If states may enter into a compact for a good purpose, they may enter into a compact for any purpose. It is for this reason that the Constitution specifically forbade such compacts without the consent of Congress. At issue is this: If Congress has once granted consent to a compact, is the consent eternal and unalterable or may Congress from time to time investigate the compact to discover whether it is still in the interest of the United States and whether it is performing the task for which the compact was permitted by Congress, or is producing an excess of power.

It does not matter that the compact serves a good cause or that those who supervise the compact are reputable men. Today men are reputable; tomorrow others take their places who serve their own purposes. It is a fallacy to base a judgment on the virtue of men; it is essential that the law be correct and that the law be obeyed.

In the present Port of New York Authority controversy, the virtue of the individuals is not questioned; what is questioned is the right of a congressional committee to inquire into the activities of a public body which exists by a compact between two states and a consent by the Congress. The contention of one side is that the public body, in this instance, the Port of New York Authority, needs to report only to the governors of the states in the compact; the contention of the congressional committee is that the right of investigation is inherent and that a consent once granted may be revoked.

It is a tricky subject and out of it could come decisions of far-reaching effect.

Timely Checkup

Cancer, Heart Disease And Others Strike When All Seems Well

It takes a lot of doing to convince a healthy person that he had better do something constructive about keeping his health.

Never having felt actual pain or suffered from anxiety, the healthy man often says: "What's all the shouting about? What's the need for health checkup? I feel fine. Why ask for trouble?"

It isn't asking for trouble to put time on your side rather than allowing it to become an ally of disease. Illness feeds on procrastination.

Killers like cancer, heart disease, and other chronic illnesses often begin their attack in clear weather. All seems well. There are no warning thunder claps or lightning bolts to signal that disease is beginning to endanger health.

"I had never had a physical examination until last week," a man told me recently. "I've never felt better. But my wife insisted because it was my 40th birthday. I thought it was silly but I went along to please her."

Guess what they found? I have an old healed duodenal ulcer that I didn't even know about. Never had any real indigestion. I also have sugar in my urine. I'm not surprised, because my father has had diabetes for years. And that's not all; my blood pressure is beginning to climb.

"I've cut out cigarettes, watch my diet, and have let up a little on my working schedule. You can bet I'm thankful that my wife talked me into going to the doctor. In fact, I feel so good about it, I've already convinced about half a dozen friends and business acquaintances to have checkups too."

Most people of 40 come away from their doctor's office with a clean bill of health. They breathe easier when the doctor tells them all's well. I tell people to have periodic physical examinations because time spent in doing so is not wasted — no matter how busy you are.

As for the expense: in the long run, it's the cheapest life insurance premium you can find anywhere.

LUMP IN BREAST

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Tests have shown that a lump in my breast is malignant. My doctor says the whole breast will have to be removed. I cannot bring myself to agree to such a disfiguring operation.

Isn't there anything else that can be done? Like X-ray or radium treatments? And just what will happen if I do not submit to surgery? — Sincerely, Mrs. U., New Jersey.

ANSWER: Your unwillingness is understandable. Unfortunately, you have no choice — if you want to give yourself every opportunity to recover.

If the diagnosis is cancer, such an operation is imperative as soon as the diagnosis has been made. If you do not submit to surgery it is practically inevitable that the cancer cells will spread through the rest of the body. When this happens, there is no known medical or surgical treatment that can save such a patient.

If you are in doubt about the diagnosis or procedure, I am sure your doctor will be willing to call in a consultant for another opinion. If he agrees, don't waste precious time.

For Mr. E., Buffalo, N.Y.: In an elderly male with bladder trouble caused by an enlarged prostate, I think most urologists will agree that massage of the prostate is ineffectual treatment.

Dr. Steincrohn's leaflet, "How To Be A Happy Hypochondriac," will be mailed to you on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin for handling charges. Address your request to Dr. Steincrohn, c/o this newspaper.

Ellender Bound

By Demo Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La) said Friday he is bound by action of the Louisiana Democratic State Central Committee and will vote for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in November.

The committee, by a 51-49 vote Thursday, pledged to the party's 10 presidential electors to the Kennedy-Johnson ticket.

Ellender said that since he is the party nominee for Senate and since the committee now has placed him and the Kennedy-Johnson ticket on the ballot under the party emblem of the rooster "I am bound by law."

Therefore, he said, he plans to vote the Democratic ticket.

Child's Prayer

DEAR God, each night my prayers
I've said . . . As I have gone to bed . . . And now I fear there's nothing new . . . That I can say to you . . . Each night I've been pajama clad . . . I've prayed for Mom and Dad . . . That all their love might long endure . . . And so our home insure . . . I've prayed for all my dolls and pets . . . The toys from blocks to jets . . . And also as a general rule . . . For teacher in my school . . . For every little friend of mine . . . I've always had a line . . . Thus, I have really prayed a lot . . . And not a one forgot . . . I think it's time to make a change . . . And pray at closer range . . . And so, dear God, how would it be . . . If now I pray for me?

European Steel Pool

Six Nations Combine Coal, Steel

For Larger Industry

BONN, WEST GERMANY — Back in the bad old days of Adolf Hitler and his big business backers the steel cartel of Germany was the Vereinigte Stahlwerke combine. Two strong members of this combine were the companies called Thyssen-Huett and Phoenix-Rheinrohn. Today the entire German steel industry is incorporated into the supranational body called European Coal and Steel Community. It includes the nations of Belgium, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, West Germany, France and Italy.

There have been some recent developments which indicate amusing and, perhaps, significant trends in the attempted move toward European integration. The whole movement, of course, is in pious imitation of the American Union. The Europeans hope eventually to have a federation of States within a central government headed by Court of Justice, the equivalents of our legislative and judiciary systems. The Europeans are a little skittish, as yet, about entrusting very much power into the hands of one man, but that may have to come.

Both the good and the bad of the American system keep popping up. Only last month the two big companies mentioned above, Thyssen and Phoenix, came up with a plan that harks back to the early part of this century in America when the Ivy Lee, sold John D. Rockefeller on the idea that we now call "enlightened capitalism." Partly because it was the smart thing to do in relation to public and political opinion, the Rockefeller began to establish non-profit foundations which today are monuments to their philanthropy and shrewdness.

Well, the Thyssen and Phoenix companies announced in July a $25 million endowment. The emphasis appears to be on the training of scientists especially of physicians. The scheme has met with general applause, and the German steel - mongers see into be on the way toward performing their horrible reputations as merchants of death.

But going flank to flank with this imitation of what's "good" in the American system is something else. Thyssen and Phoenix, p a n i e s, have just thwarted in an attempt to make a merger. The American way has always been for big firms to try to combine in spite of the anti-trust laws, and for small firms to forbid them to do so in the name of the law. But it's always been and success should be allowed to triumph for the general good, or whether these qualities should be that smaller firms can survive.

The same test is taking place in West Europe. The big German firms, Thyssen and Phoenix, had to apply to the 6-nation High Authority for permission to merge. There were some special facts to consider. Frau Amelie Thyssen, who is over 80, and Countess Zichy, the old lady's daughter, together own commanding shares in both companies. When the mother dies, the two firms will be merged by an Act of God. The merger, if allowed, would give the combined firms only 6.5 per cent of the steel production of the Coal-Steel Community — not a dominating position.

But the suspicion and jealousy of the less successful for the more successful seem to have won out — as too often happens in our country. The representatives of France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg were against further growth by the Germans. There was some talk of going to the Court, but in 1958 the High Authority has been sustained 162 times. Rather than stir up old animosities, the German industrialists withdrew the request for a merger.

The West German press has denounced the gang-up on their companies as a defeat for supranationalism and a "black Friday" for European integration. To this American observer, it looks like a case of nationalism asserting its vitality — and of capitalism enduring its natural growing pains.

Sun Worshipers?

In Madness For Deeper Tan, Many

Persons Resemble Barbecue

NEW YORK (AP) — If Aristotle were suddenly transported through time to a modern American beach, what would he think?

Glancing around at the sands studded with sprawling mortals slowly reddening under a hot sky, he could reach only one conclusion:

"What a strange heathen tribe these Americans are! Obviously they are sun worshipers. But what an odd form their rites take! "Instead of sacrificing animals, they anoint themselves with oil, lie prostrate and turn themselves into burnt offerings under the terrible eye of their God. What awful guilt has driven them to this inhuman self-punishment?"

Wise old Aristotle would regard this as a form of cult madness, and even the most modern present-day physician would sadly have to agree with his diagnosis.

Comes June and millions of Americans quit chasing the dollar, and begin a new mass pursuit—a summer tan. They turn the country into one vast human barbecue pit.

Those who can afford to do so, go to the nearest real beach. Others take off as much clothing as the law allows and spreadleagle themselves on the grass of back yard or public park. Still others climb to their rooftops and slowly stew in their own juices on "lar beach."

But wherever the sun shines, it shines on grub-white limbs and bald pates, on countless miles of human epidermis seeking a chamelon change. People too busy to lie in the sun try to apply instant tan from a bottle.

A light tan is not enough. The goal is to get darker and darker until one matches the color of walnut bark.

The theory behind this zany fad is that a tan makes a man look more virile, a woman more beautiful—and both sexes more healthy.

But, as any doctor knows, 15 minutes in the sun each day will make the average person as healthy as he needs to be for all practical purposes. And, as any cosmetician knows, too much exposure to the sun will in time make the skin beautiful only to one who admires the patina of old leather.

Two generations ago any responsible mother would spank a daughter who went out in the sun bare-headed and thereby risked ruining her fair complexion. Mothers believed then, as poets have sung in all ages, that more beauty lay in pale hands, naturally rosy cheeks, and lily-white features than in a hide the color of a hickory limb.

Today, however, grandma and grandpa, mother and father, not only share this new aberrant form of sun worship—they also expose little toddlers for hours to the fierce rays from on high. The price they pay they do not know.

The truth is that a pretty girl isn't made prettier by too much sun. She merely looks like what she is—half-baked. Two freckles on a saucy nose are more attractive than eight square acres of feminine tan. Why should all chickens yearn to be fricasseeed? If this mass madness for an even deeper tan continues, the verdict of a future anthropologist on American civilization may be: "They lay too long in the heat of the sun, and all went crazy at once."

What this country needs is sunnier winters and cloudier summers—to save us from ourselves!

Boyle, who recently returned from a vacation, is still pining from a bad case of sunburn.

Daily Devotional

But it is good for me to draw near to God. — Psalm 73:28.

Growing plants and trees depend upon the earth for strength; animals turn to food for nourishment; our electrical appliances must be connected with a powerhouse if they function properly. Is it any wonder, then, that one must draw near to God for spiritual strength, power and rejuvenation? We have the Bible with us always and we have recourse to prayer and the spiritual experiences of others. But for the ordinary layman, the most dependable and regular contact with God is through the church. Tomorrow offers another golden opportunity.

Merciful God, may we turn to Thy sanctuaries this Sunday that we may draw near to Thee and renew our spirits. In Christ's name we ask. Amen.

On Baseball Field

THURMONT, Md. (UPI) — President Eisenhower's helicopter, carrying him to a weekend of rest at Camp David, landed on a baseball lot here Friday when low-flying clouds weathered in the President's mountain retreat.

After the landing, the President transferred immediately to an automobile for a 15-minute ride five miles up into the Catoclin mountains to his secluded hideaway. He planned nothing but rest and golf until he returns to the White House, probably late Sunday afternoon.

ON LSU CAMPUS

Cotton Research Meeting Slated

A large turnout from the north-east area is expected at a state cotton meeting Wednesday on Louisiana State University campus at Baton Rouge.

The meeting, set for 9 a.m. in room 241, Himes Hall, will feature reports on the latest in cotton research from LSU, plans for establishment of the recently authorized Louisiana Cotton Research Center at Curtis, and information from cotton industry leaders.

Sponsors of the session, which will be open to all persons engaged in or interested in the cotton industry, are the Louisiana Agricultural Extension Service, the Cotton Contact Research Committee, and the research branch of the university.

The meeting will last until about 3 p.m.

Paul Ransom of Monroe is chairman of the 16-man steering committee of the Cotton Contact Research Committee. Other steering committee members from the district are Dalton Gandy, Ruston; James Parish, Girard; Harvey P. Grant, Delhi; John Carpenter, Tallulah, and Jim Henry Gilfill, Lake Providence.

Besides data on research and a review of cotton progress in the state during the past year, the group will discuss plans for the cotton research center at Curtis, for which the last session of the State Legislature appropriated $105,000. The appropriation was recommended by the state cotton group after its first meeting in Baton Rouge last year, Ransom said.

One of the important features on the one-day program will be the appearance of Carl Cox, director of cotton research for the State of Texas, which is one of the leaders in the nation in this phase of activity.

Ransom said the meeting will be very technical in nature, but will be open for questions and suggestions on future research needs and details of cotton industry work.

On the program will be Dr. J. Norman Efferson, dean of the LSU College of Agriculture and key members of his faculty. The men and their subjects will be Dr. W. K. Porter, agriculture and engineering research; Dr. J. B. Sinclair, plant pathology; Dr. Fred Self, and Dr. Jack Jones, agronomy; Dr. L. D. Newsum, entomology; agriculture economics, Dr. J. F. Hudson, who will include in his report findings on the scanatron electronic cotton classing machine.

This machine was used to grade some 2,000 bales of cotton last year. These bales were traced to the various mills to determine outcome of the gradings.

Ransom stressed that any person interested in any phase of cotton work may attend the meeting, and that membership in any of the sponsoring groups is not necessary.

Lewis Tells Coal Miners Of Deficit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—John L. Lewis told the nation's coal miners Friday that a deficit of more than $1 million in the United Mine Workers (UMW) welfare fund during the past year made it necessary to tighten eligibility requirements.

The fund stopped paying hospital, medical and funeral benefits for UMW workers out of work for more than a year, and self-employed miners starting last July 1, 1960.

Its annual report, released Friday by Lewis and two other trustees, showed that expenses for the year ending June 30 were $148,305,562 compared with total income of $130,045,072.

Winding soft coal production lowered the income from 40-cent-a-ton royalties from unionized mines while benefit payments increased in the last year, the report showed.

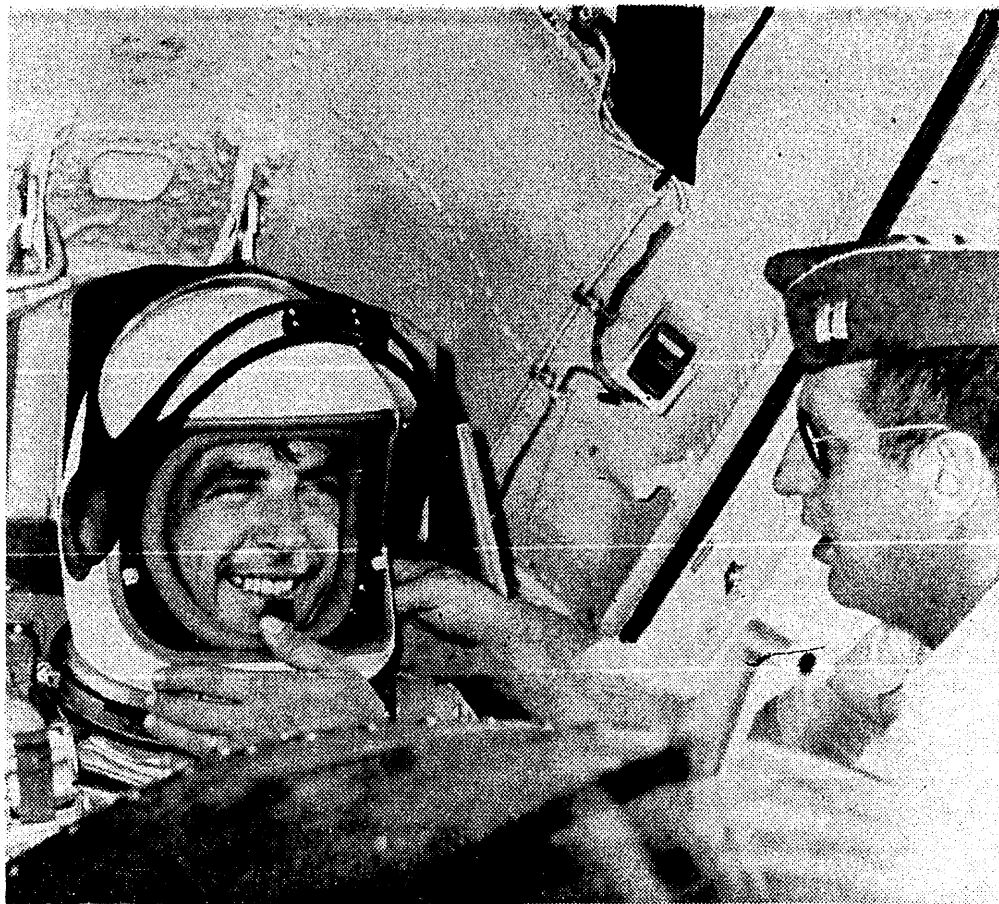

"This was the second straight year that expenditures exceeded income," the report said, reducing the fund's assets by almost $30 million since mid-1958. The fund still has a balance of $16,271,505, however, to finance medical care, pensions and funeral benefits for miners and their dependents covered by the plan.

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (UPI)—An Air Force B-47 Stratofortress bomber crashed and burned while landing early Friday. Three crew members scrambled safely from the burning plane.

British Jet Explodes

NEW RECORD HEIGHT

Pilot Flies Rocket Ship 25 Miles High

By RALPH DIGHTON

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—An ace test pilot rode the rocket ship X15 to a record height of nearly 25 miles Friday, then radioed back from the fringe of space. "This is really fantastic up here,"

Air Force Maj. Bob White, 36, was weightless for nearly a minute as the dark research plane, out of sight from observers at this desert test center, carried man higher than he ever has ventured before.

Back on the ground the handsome veteran of nearly 5,000 hours in the air spoke almost poetically of his experience:

"It was a very deep blue, but not exactly like night. There was distinct contrast. Your view encompasses three distinct bands: the earth, the light blue of the sky and then the very deep blue of extreme altitude. It was very impressive."

"I was impressed by the feeling of altitude—the height above ground. At the altitude I normally fly, 40,000 to 50,000 feet, I can see, oh, maybe, hundreds of square miles. This time I took in 10 times that much. I couldn't see any definite curvature of the earth, but I expect photographs would show it."

Higher, perhaps to 100 miles, is exactly where he is expected to go when the X15 is equipped with a more powerful engine later this year.

White's mark Friday was 131,000 feet. This is almost a mile higher than the old mark of 128,200 set by the late Iven C. Kincheloe on the X2 rocket ship in 1956. The official record is 103,395 set in an F104C jet last Dec. 14 by Air Force Capt. Joe Jordan. The manned balloon mark is 101,516.

White vaulted to his mark with a four-minute all-out burst of the X15's eight-barrel rocket engine. Dropped from a B52 at 45,000 feet, he climbed at a 51-degree angle and kept going until his fuel burned out.

While he had no feeling of acceleration, "I did feel a definite sensation of going almost straight up."

His maximum speed was 1,700 m.p.h. This compares with the unofficial world record of 2,196 m.p.h. set in the same plane last week by test pilot Joe Walker of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. The two trade off on X15 flights. Walker hit his mark during a shallow dive.

The drop was at 8:48 a. m. Eleven minutes later White brought the 50-foot black craft in for a 200 m.p.h. landing on Rogers Dry Lake.

White said he thinks the X15 can do the job it was designed for, fly 50 to 100 miles higher at 4,000 m.p.h. But he doubts that the present model could fly itself into orbit, as some have said.

White is a modest type with close-cut brown hair and blue eyes. He flew 52 wartime missions and was a prisoner of war in Germany after being shot down. The father of three children ranging in age from 1 to 5, he lives here with his wife.

Chimpanzee May Go Into Orbit Soon

LIXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Sometime soon the Air Force can be expected to put a trained chimpanzee into orbit around the earth to pave the way for human flights.

The successful recovery of the Discoverer XIII space capsule near Hawaii Thursday appears to be an indication the apes will be the next passengers.

They can provide invaluable information in rounding out the Project Mercury plans to send an astronaut up.

For more than a year the chimps have received training at several research centers, including the University of Kentucky. The training here is almost complete.

Some chimps are ready to go whenever the government gives the go-ahead.

Based on past experiments, here's an idea of how the chimps will be used:

Strapped in specially designed bucket seats, they'll respond to visual signals on a panel by pressing a button or buttons.

Attempts may be made to get them to respond under the crushing acceleration of lift-off, and later when the capsule is in orbit.

The information could be taped for study when the capsule is recovered.

But if it develops the capsule can't be recovered—or for other reasons—the information may be transmitted back while the chimps are in orbit.

Much of the evaluation probably will be on their response under conditions of heavy acceleration, weightlessness and the crucial re-entry period.

By comparing the time differences in responses under differing conditions, much can be learned of the effects of space flight.

The chimps also will be wired to provide information on heart beat and respiration.

Prominent Area Resident Dies;

Rites Set Today

GILBERT (Special) — Mrs. Emeline Sherrouse, prominent local resident, died Friday at the age of 67.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday in the First National Funeral home chapel at Winnboro, with the Rev. J. W. Boyd officiating.

Interment will be in Oakly cemetery here.

Mrs. Sherrouse was born in 1893 in Sparta, Ga.

She is survived by her husband, Chevis W. Sherrouse Jr., Baton Rouge; four grandchildren; eight sisters and two brothers.

Palbearers will be Frank McNair, Richmond Hanks, Henry Wormbe, Paul Hammond, Jack McKee, Scott Gardner, Marion Shelton, J. C. Gilbert.

Laotian Coup Probe Eyed By SEATO

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI)—SEATO powers are considering an emergency meeting to study the situation in Laos where a military coup overthrew the pro-Western government, diplomatic sources said Friday.

The small kingdom of Laos, formerly part of French Indochina, is not a member of the alliance but is a part of SEATO's area of protection. SEATO would decide whether the coup threatened any of the member nations.

Reliable reports reaching Bangkok said that except for the political capital city of Vientiane, the Laotian people and the army have remained loyal to the royal government with headquarters at the royal capital of Luang Prabang.

Tiao Khampan, Laotian ambassador to Thailand, said Prime Minister Tiao Somsanith had set up offices in Luang Prabang while waiting for the army to restore order.

Brig. Gen. Phoumi Nosawan, the Laotian defense minister who fled to Bangkok, slipped quietly out of the city Friday to the southern part of Laos to try to keep alive the loyalty of the Laotian troops.

Diplomatic sources here predicted military action against the revolutionary forces led by paratroop Capt. Kong Lae. Phoumi was reported accompanied by several high ranking army officers and was expected to move against Kong Lae.

It was noted that should SEATO decide to intervene in Laos it cannot do so unless invited by the legitimate Laotian government.

Recreation Center To Be Resumed

The Monroe Community Center will re-open and resume its activities on September 1, after repairs are made to the fire-damaged building at 113 Catalpa St.

Members of the Monroe Recreation Board decided to keep the center in the same place, after learning that the building's owners will pay for all the repairs.

"It's not costing the recreation department or the city of Monroe a penny," commented Jack Hesketh, recreation director.

The building was damaged by smoke and fire after a blaze started in a janitor's supply room on the second floor, where the center is housed, in late July.

At first it was not certain whether the center would be moved to another location or await repairs. The decisive meeting was held Wednesday night, in the Mayor's office.

Only Recreation Board members, led by John Kelso Jr., chairman, attended.

Repairs will include a new roof, complete renovation of the janitor's supply room, and repainting all interior walls.

It is due for completion on Sept. 1.

dogging steers and 15 parade horses.

The rodeo, sponsored by the West Monroe Riding Club, will be in the new arena which has a seating capacity of 4,000 and parking space available.

Three Traffic Cases Heard In Total Of Five

Out of five cases tried in West Monroe city court yesterday, three persons were fined for various traffic violations.

Charges against Mrs. Billy Joiner, 21, of route one, Monroe, were withdrawn, and charges against Silas A. Stephenson Jr., 17, Ruston, were nolle prossed. Raymond D. McVay, route four, Ruston, was fined $25 and costs or 25 days for reckless driving, causing a wreck at North Seventh and Stella Streets.

A fine of $20.50 was imposed on Opal Skipper, 37, 146 Arrant Rd., for speeding.

Walter V. Spangler, 17, of 4003 Gerald St., was fined $3 for running a stop sign at Cotton and Pine Streets. He was arrested by police yesterday.

MAP SUMMARY
Showers or occasional rain continued in the Southeast and South Central part of the country extending from Virginia and the Southern Appalachians into the Gulf region late Friday. Thundershowers were reported from Georgia into Florida. Thundershowers were also reported in the Central Plains and were accompanied by gusty winds in Kansas. Dodge City recorded gusts to near 50 mph. Showers and thundershowers scattered over the Southern half of the Plateau region continued the precipitation pattern over the nation. Rainfall amounts during the day were generally less than one inch. Considerable sunshine prevailed from the Great Lakes region through the Northern plains into most of the Rockies and from the Northern plateau region into the Pacific states as well as over New England.

Warm humid weather continued in the extreme Southeastern part of the country while pleasant temperatures in the 70s or low 80s occurred from the middle and North Atlantic states into most of the Mississippi Valley. Very warm weather was again reported over most of the Western half of the nation. Temperatures in the 90s or high 80s were common in the Dakotas and West Central Plains westward into Interior regions of the Pacific states. As usual this time of year temperatures climbed into the 100s in the Desert Southwest. The 100 degree mark was also reached in South Dakota where Philip reached an even 100 and in Northern California where Red Bluff recorded a 105.

Cooler temperatures are expected today from Idaho and Montana into Northern Minnesota while a warming trend takes place in Wisconsin and from the Northern Ohio Valley through the middle Mississippi Valley into Kansas and Oklahoma. Thundershowers are forecast from the Gulf Region into the Carolinas with occasional rain or showers expected to spread from Virginia and the Southern Appalachians into Southern New England by late Saturday.

Major features at 7 p.m. est. Nearly stationary front with weak waves from Northern Georgia and Southeastern Louisiana to just south of Southern tip of Texas. Weakening ridge of high pressure from Eastern Texas into Middle Atlantic states. Trough of low pressure from Dakotas into Texas Panhandle. Thermal low Southeastern California.

UNITAS PACES WIN

Colts Bomb Stars For 32-7 Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — Unerring Johnny Unitas hurled three touchdown passes to Lenny Moore, pacing the relentless Baltimore Colts to a 32-7 victory over a game, stubborn College All-Star team before 70,000 in Soldier Field Friday night.

The 27th All-Star Game almost duplicated last year's 29-0 triumph by the champion Colts of the National Football League over the cream of the collegiate crop.

Although the Colts surged to a 24-0 halftime margin, Coach Otto

Graham's All-Stars made a show of it and finally scored in the opening seconds of the fourth period on a pass play covering 60 yards from Southern Methodist's Don Meredith to Oklahoma's Prentice Gault.

Unitas, who left the game with Baltimore ahead 28-0 late in the third period, completed two three-yard scoring passes, and one 13-yard touchdown toss to fleet halfback Moore.

The pros also got a 12-point contribution from kicking expert Steve Myhra, who booted three field goals—two measuring 27 yards and one 38—and converted after all three Colt touchdowns.

Two more Baltimore points came when Notre Dame's George Izo was nailed for a safety in the third quarter.

It was the 17th pro triumph against 8 collegiate victories and 2 ties in the mid-summer grid spectacle sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

The Colts, however, suffered a blow when their ace offensive lineman, Jim Parker, suffered a broken left hand early in the third quarter.

The Collegians never quit, even though they failed to get any sustained offense clicking other than Meredith's payoff pitch to Gault and the ex-Mustang's consistent losses to star end Gail Cogdill of Washington State.

Gault's touchdown came after he snagged a Meredith pass of about 10 yards and then scooted 30 yards to score after a great key block by North Carolina tackle Don Stallings. Mississippi's Bob Khyatt added the extra point.

Concordia Wins State Dixie Title

ALEXANDRIA, La. (Special)—Concordia swept two games from previously unbeaten Monroe, 9-4 and 5-3, to win the state Dixie League championship here last night.

A loser to Monroe in their first game of the state tournament, 12-3, Concordia won yesterday's first game with a seven-run sixth inning highlighted by Rodney Crouch's grand slam home run. Concordia had entered the sixth trailing, 4-2.

Righty James Walker pitched a four-hitter to win the game while Charley Van Zile was the starter and loser for Monroe. Tommy Sparks relieved Van Zile.

Van Zile got a double and single to lead Monroe's hitting while Crouch had a single in addition to his homer.

Shortstop James Walker hit a double and single and Jeff Paul doubled for Concordia in the second contest. Fred Jacques started and won for Concordia although he needed help from Ron Jeter, who came on in the fourth and allowed only two hits the rest of the game.

Tommy Sparks started and lost for Monroe while Ronnie Factor finished up. Johnny Loftin hit a double for the losers and Don Sager collected two singles.

"I thought I'd break it," Connelly said. "But I didn't think I'd throw that far."

Connelly borrowed a ball from Al Hall of the New York Athletic Club when the wire connecting Hall's ball to the hand grip snapped after his first throw.

Connelly, who has been competing for the Southern California Striders, started off Friday night with a throw of 225-0, just 4 inches off the record. His next five throws went 216-6, 230-9, 215-10, 223-0 and 225-10.

OWENS' RECORD FALLS

Boston Smashes 25-Year-Old Mark

WALNUT, Calif. (AP) — Broad jumper Ralph Boston broke the oldest track and field record on the books Friday night in an historic meet that also produced two other world record-breaking performances.

Boston, of Tennessee A&I, bettered 26 feet four straight times in the broad jump. Then he surpassed Jesse Owens' 25-year-old record with a leap of 26 feet, 11 1/4 inches.

Minutes later, shot put Bill Nieder, only an alternate on the U. S. Olympic team, broke his pending world record of 65 feet, 7 inches, with a throw of 65-10.

An hour before that, Hal Connelly smashed his own world hammer throw record with a heave of 230 feet, 9 inches. This is more than 5 feet better than Connelly's recognized record—and he did it with a borrowed hammer.

Another world record was equalled as the U. S. track and field team held its final pre-Olympic meet at Mt. San Antonio College.

Dave Sime, the former Duke star who missed the 1956 Olympics because of a leg injury, tied the listed world record in the 100-meter dash, covering the distance in 10.1 seconds. The record is held by three men, but two others have done 10 flat.

Owens set his broad jump record—26 feet, 8 1/4 inches—at Ann Arbor, Mich., May 25, 1935.

"Jesse said it was all right to break it," Boston said. "He's tired of it."

Boston, 21, said he thought he had gone over 26 feet, "but I didn't think it was that far."

Boston went 26 feet, 10 inches on his first jump, but spoiled it by falling backward in the pit.

Connelly broke his record on his final preliminary throw.

Before the event was over, Connelly had broken the old standard again with a throw of 225-0. He set the recognized record of 225-4 at Bakersfield, Calif., June 20, 1958.

"I thought I'd break it," Connelly said. "But I didn't think I'd throw that far."

ROUT VOLS, 14-1

Ramblers Clinch La-Ark Pennant

Ruston shelled four West Monroe pitchers for 16 hits and a 14-1 victory to convincingly clinch the La-Ark League pennant at Ruston last night.

The Ramblers' runaway victory gave them a five game lead over the Vols and Monroe with only three games left to play. Sterling stopped Dubach, 5-2, and Bastrop forfeited to Monroe in the other scheduled games last night.

Jim Sewell banged out four hits to drive in three runs in pacing Ruston's triumph over West Monroe. Kelson Bacon collected three hits and George Garrett, Ronnie McNabb, Joe Zaffatter and Charley Fuller two apiece.

Ray Germany pitched a three-hitter to pick up the victory. Wayne Henderson started for West Monroe and took the loss. He was followed by James Mock, Tuffy Antley and Earl Esters.

Billy Halley pitched and hit a solo home run in the third to pace Sterling's victory over Dubach. Halley gave up eight hits and lost to Charles Fuller seven. Fuller fanned 11.

Bob Albritton hit 3-4 for the winning Cats while Max Green and Mitch Dugdale got 2-3 each. Bastrop failed to show up for its game in Monroe.

LEAD SLICED TO .005

Homers By 'Big 3' Power Senators Past Yankees, 12-7

NEW YORK (AP)—Washington got home run blasts from its big three—Jim Lemon, Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew—and the Senators defeated New York 12-7 Friday night to cut the Yankees' lead to .005 in the American League.

Allison hit his 12th homer, Killebrew his 18th and Lemon his 11th. The Baltimore Orioles, who defeated the Boston Red Sox, 4-3, closed in on the Yanks.

Allison, first man up in the game, homered into the left field seats, and after Killebrew had walked, Billy Gardner tripled to score the second run in what developed as the longest game of the year in the Stadium. The Senators were never headed on the victory that gave them a 6-5 edge in the season's series.

Moore Skowron (No. 22) and Yogi Berra (No. 11) hit for the distance for the Yankees.

The contest rapidly turned into a parade of pitchers, as far as the Yankees were concerned. Starter Bill Short went out in the third inning. Jim Coates, who relieved him, lasted into the fifth, and Ryne Duren, Ralph Terry and Luis Arroyo followed. Short got the defeat, his fifth.

Pedro Ramos started for the Nats, and staggered along into the seventh when the Yankees got to him for a walk, a single and a triple. Hal Woodeshick was called in to put out the fire.

Washington picked up a third run in the third inning on Killebrew's solo blast into the right field bull pen, but the threat of more damage was avoided when Ramos fanned with the bases full for the third out.

The Yankees cut the margin to 3-2 in the fourth when Skowron got his homer after Mickey Mantle had walked, but the Nats came back with three more in the fifth, with the help of a dropped fly ball by Berra and a pinch single with the bases full by Elmer Valo.

The Yankees got two back in the bottom of the fifth when Berra homered following Ken Boyer's single, but thereafter it was a futile chase, with Washington scoring five times in the seventh and a final tally in the ninth.

GIANTS FALL, 4-2

Spahn Posts 13th As Braves Win

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Southpaw Warren Spahn mastered San Francisco on six hits Friday night as the Milwaukee Braves defeated the Giants 4-2 with the help of a three-run double by Mel Roach.

The victory enabled the Braves to pick up a game in the National League pennant race. Milwaukee is six games behind the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates who were defeated by St. Louis.

Spahn surrendered only one extra base hit—a solo homer by Felipe Alou in the fourth—in registering his 13th triumph in 30 decisions.

The victory also boosted the 39-year-old veteran's career total to 200 and pulled him to within two of Anthony Mullan, who ranks 12th among all-time winning pitchers. The Braves nailed down the verdict on Roach's bases-loaded belt to left center in the fifth.

Lee Maye launched the rally with a hit to right and moved to second on a single by Al Dark. Johnny Logan then laid down a sacrifice bunt and reached first safely as Jim Marshall bobbled the ball.

Spahn popped up, but Roach came through. Ironically, Roach was a last minute starter at second base as Red Schoendienst showed up with a pulled groin muscle.

The Giants nicked Spahn for an unearned run in the first on a single by Joe Amalfitano, a fielder's choice on which there was a throwing error by Roach and a hit to right center by Orlando Cepeda.

Alou connected for his third homer, a hoist into the bleachers in left, but Spahn blanked the Giants the rest of the way.

Milwaukee, which has won only six of its last 17 starts, added an insurance run in the sixth when Hank Aaron beat out a bunt and Wes Covington singled to right.

Aaron went to third on the hit and scored when shortstop Andre Rodgers cut off the throw and tossed the ball away attempting to trap Covington.

Right-hander Jack Sanford was charged with the defeat, his 11th. He has won nine.

Twin City Printing swamped Friendly Finance, 16-1, with the Wright brothers starring. B. Wright was the pitcher and Mike Wright hit 2-2 for the winners.

C. Floyd hit 3-3 and Graves caught. Murray and Johnson was the losing battery.

Revised Voting For Football's Top Ten

NEW YORK (AP)—Revision of the voting method for The Associated Press' famous top ten rankings in football was announced today by AP.

The revision was undertaken in consultation with The Associated Press Managing Editors' Association. It limits the voting in the poll to a selected list of electors who also serve as members of the All-America Board.

Voting under the old system whereby each member newspaper and radio and television station was entitled to one vote became too unwieldy.

The Associated Press top ten rankings in football started in 1936. It is the oldest of its kind and on the basis of the final poll a trophy emblematic of the national championship has been awarded for more than 25 years. It was won last year by Syracuse.

Grid Writers' Assn. Elects M. Olderman

CHICAGO (AP)—The Football Writers' Association of America Friday elected Murray Olderman, Newspaper Enterprise Assn., New York, as president, succeeding Furman Bisher of the Atlanta Journal.

Other new officers included Jerry Liska, Associated Press, Chicago, first vice president; Bert McGraw, Des Moines Register & Tribune, second vice president; Maury White, Des Moines Register & Tribune, secretary-treasurer; and Sid Hartman, Minneapolis Star-Tribune, secretary.

In the annual press box report, the grid writers adjudged that Navy had the most improved press box for 1959, and the worst press boxes were at Birmingham, Ala., Legion Field; Tennessee University; Georgia University; University of Illinois; and Crump Stadium at Memphis, Tenn.

The writers awarded citations for meritorious service to Don Faurot, retired coach and present athletic director at Missouri, among major colleges, and Joe Verducci, San Francisco State coach, among minor colleges.

Four schools were advanced from minor to major classification for statistical and grading purposes, including Xavier, Mississippi Southern, Trinity and Memphis State.

ON HANSEN'S HOMER

Flying Orioles Record 7th Straight, Beat Bosox, 4-3

By GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE (AP)—Ron Hansen's lead-off homer in the ninth inning gave Baltimore a 4-3 come-from-behind victory over the Boston Red Sox Friday night and extended the Orioles winning streak to seven.

Jim Gentile's two-run homer in the eighth had tied the score at 3-3 as the Orioles continued flexing their new-found muscles.

The Orioles have hit 18 homers in their last eight games and all but one of their last 17 runs have come on homers.

Boston starter Billy Muffett struck out seven and allowed only one run and five hits before he was lifted after walking pinch hitter Gene Stephens to start the eighth.

Southpaw Tom Borland retired Gene Woodling, but Gentile, who usually doesn't play against left-handers, cracked a 410-foot drive to left center to tie the score.

Borland left for a pinch hitter in the top of the ninth and was replaced by Mike Fornieles, who had a 2-1 count on Hansen when the rookie shortstop smacked a 400-foot drive into the left field bleachers.

Hansen committed three errors in the field, one in the second inning when Boston scored two of its runs. He made a wild throw on an attempted double play after a single by Vic Wertz and a walk. Jim Pagliaroni followed with a run-scoring triple, so both runs were counted as earned.

Pagliaroni also singled in the first Red Sox run in the second inning following a walk and a single by Rip Repulski.

Baltimore starter Steve Barber was chased in the second and the runs in the third came off Wes Stock.

After the third, Boston made only two hits off Stock, Gordon Jones and winner Chuck Estrada, who hurled the final two innings.

The Orioles scored their first run in the seventh on a single double by Hansen and a two-out double by Hansen and a single by Marv Breeding.

STOVALL, NEUMANN CONTENDERS

Bengal Running Backs Plentiful

BATON ROUGE, (Special)—Although halfbacks like Billy Cannon and Johnny Robinson are not easily replaced, Louisiana State coach Paul Dietzel cannot count on a lack of running backs among his problems for the 1960 season. Coach Dietzel will be more concerned about an inexperienced quarterback position and vacancies on the left side of the line when LSU assemblies for its initial practice session September 1.

Five returning lettermen at the running back positions—left half, right half and fullback—plus five promising sophomore ball carriers should provide comfortable depth for a team engaged in a small scale rebuilding program.

Foremost among Tiger ball carriers are halfback Wendell Harris and fullback Donnie Daye, both slated for starting roles this fall. An elusive 185-pound speedster with a talent for kicking, Harris will try to fill the gap left by Cannon's departure at left half-back.

Daye, 190-pound senior from Ferriday, is expected to retain the No. 1 fullback slot he held last year, as well as expanding on his offensive duties this fall.

Harris was a prep All-America tailback at Baton Rouge High, and has demonstrated triple-threat abilities since his arrival

DALEY ROUTED

Chisox End Run Famine With Big 6th, Beat A's, 6-4

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox, held scoreless in their previous 17 innings, erupted for six runs in a wild sixth inning Friday and defeated the Kansas City A's 6-4.

Eleven Sox went to the plate in the big inning as they routed starter Bud Daley and continued their assault against Ned Garver.

The victory went to Bob Shaw, who fanned the A's for the fourth time this year and the 10th consecutive time without defeat since he joined the Sox in 1958. Daley had beaten the Sox three times this season.

Gene Freese launched the victory with a double and scored when Al Smith doubled. Luis Aparicio singled to score Smith and went all the way to third when the first three innings, being saved repeatedly by sharp fielding. The A's got nothing out of a walk and single in the first because of a fine stop by Aparicio and a running catch by Landis. They failed to profit from a hit and an error in the second and in the third, after Jerry Lumpe had opened with a double, Aparicio leaped to catch Marv Throneberry's line drive and turn it into a double play.

Consecutive singles by Danny Kravitz, Tuttle and Ken Hamlin finally produced a Kansas City run in the fourth. Norm Siebern's 17th homer and a triple by Danny Kravitz scored two more in the eighth. The A's added another off Gerry Staley, who pitched the ninth.

Piersall Ejected Seventh Time

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland outfielder Jimmy Piersall was thrown out of Friday night's Detroit-Cleveland game in the third inning by Umpire John Stevens. It was the jittery Piersall's seventh ejection of the season and first under new Manager Jimmy Dykes.

Piersall surprised the Tigers with a bunt down the third base line. When he saw second base uncovered, Piersall took off for the bag. But catcher Hank Foiles threw the ball back to pitcher Jim Bunning, who relayed to shortstop Chico Fernandez, and Piersall was tagged out.

Piersall started an argument and Stevens waved him out of the game. Marty Keough went in to play center field.

'39 All-Stars Play 2-Inning Contest Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball heroes of 21 years ago who played in the 1939 All-Star game at Yankee Stadium will play a two-inning contest there Saturday in the feature of the club's annual Old Timers' Day.

The American Leaguers, dominated by the Yankees, defeated the Nationals, heavily manned by the pennant-winning Cincinnati Reds 3-1 that year. It was the first All-Star Game played in the Stadium.

In 1939, the Yankees won their fourth straight American League pennant and went on to win the World Series. Back from that team will come Joe DiMaggio, Bill Dickey, Frank Crosetti, Charley Keller, George Selkirk, Red Rolfe, Red Ruffing, and Manager Joe McCarthy.

Cincinnati will be represented by Johnny Vander Meer, the double no-hit pitcher; Paul Derringer, Bucky Walters and Ernie Schnoz Lombardi.

EXPANSION PLANNED

Pro Grid Commissioners To Meet With NCAA Head

CHICAGO (AP) — The Commissioners of the rival professional football leagues, appearing on the same rostrum, Friday told the Football Writers' Association of America:

1. Both commissioners, Pete Rozelle of the long-established National League, and Joe Foss of the new American League, will meet in the near future with the NCAA officials to discuss the problem of when collegiate players may be signed.

2. That both leagues plan further expansion—the NFL from its projected 14 members, and the AFL from 8 charter clubs.

3. That the AFL's 10 million dollar damage suit against the NFL for moving into Dallas where the AFL has an entry may not reach court for 18 months.

Both commissioners appeared at the annual meeting of the football writers, held in connection with the All-Star Football Game in Soldier Field.

Although no AFL signees are playing for the College All-Stars against the Baltimore Colts, Foss said this was only because his new league was in process of organization. Next year might be a different story, he said, and Rozelle added that the NFL had no objection to AFL rookies playing in the All-Star Game. The NFL recently signed an eight-year contract with the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., for continuance of the All-Star Game.

The touchy subject of pro signing of college players was brought up in a question-answer period. College sources have been critical of pro contacting of collegiate players before their football eligibility has expired.

In this respect, post-season bowl players have caused a stir, primarily Billy Cannon of LSU last season.

Both Rozelle and Foss said there was a distinct problem in this respect because of competition for talent among the NFL, AFL and Canadian football.

Rozelle pointed out that the NFL has had a rule, since 1926, barring play by a collegian until after his class graduates. He also explained that the NFL Constitution provides for a player draft (early December) before the end of the NFL playing season. Top players are seldom drafted unless they have been contacted by interested pro clubs.

Foss, whose AFL has been sharply criticized by the NFL for signing players prematurely, said his league wants to get along best as possible with the colleges.

To this end, both Foss and Rozelle will meet within a few weeks with Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA.

Foss commented, however: "If the college people stand back 1,000 yards and throw harsh words at us, we won't get a thing done."

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS

Olympic Airlift Stirs Up Trouble

ROME (AP)—Plans for a U.S. airlift to the rowing site at Lake Albano brought new complications Friday to advance organizing for the Olympic Games, already plagued by bitter political bickering.

Charles Ornstein of New York, U. S. Olympic committee chairman in charge of the team's food and welfare, caused a mild sensation when he said he hoped to have the 35 rowers transported daily by U.S. Marine helicopter from the Olympic Village to the lake, 15 miles south.

The organizing committee said Ornstein had made no formal request for the airlift but unofficially the Italians were thrown into a nervous tizzy.

"This would create many problems," said one official. "We cannot have helicopters buzzing over the village all day. And, furthermore, if the Americans do it, why not the others?"

Ornstein said it had been his hope to have the rowers quartered near Lake Albano, which occupies a volcanic crater at the small village of Castel Gandolfo, where the Pope maintains his summer palace.

"But I was overruled by our own committee, who wanted the team together," he added. "Now the next best thing is to use helicopters. We can't have these boys fighting traffic back and forth every day."

As the pace of advance preparations for the big international athletic carnival quickened, these were other top developments:

1. Stuart MacKenzie, the young sculler from Australia who was regarded as a gold medal certainty, put in a surprise appearance at Olympic Village and said bleeding ulcers could force him out of competition.

2. Gert Potgieter of South Africa, world record holder for the 40-yard hurdles, was declared definitely out. He will spend several weeks in a hospital from the broken upper jaw and other injuries received in an automobile accident two nights ago.

3. The Olympic torch was lighted by the rays of the sun on ancient Olympia and was sent speeding toward Rome by marathon runners. The flame is to arrive in time for the opening ceremony Aug. 25.

4. Italy's Communists stepped up their Olympic battle against the Roman Catholic Church by pasting up 3-foot posters on city walls charging "clerical interference with the Olympics."

5. Delegations from Japan, Pakistan, the Philippines, Colombia and Ethiopia joined the early list of arrivals in the village, which by late next week will be sheltering nearly 8,000 athletes.

6. Competition opened in the pre-Olympic basketball tournament at Bologna where 18 teams vie for five places.

MacKenzie strolled into the Australian headquarters while officials sought him in England, on the Continent and in South Africa.

"I'm having some trouble with ulcers," the strapping 6-foot-4 sculler said. "They're still bleeding and I've had little chance to train. But if the doctors say I'm okay, I'll row."

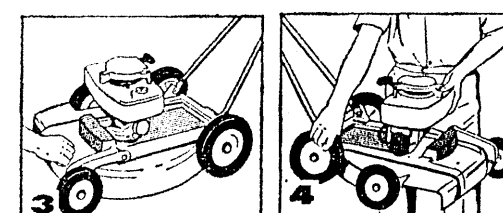

A three-time winner of the diamond sculls at Henley, young MacKenzie was rated a championship certainty in his event.

Potgieter's loss was a blow to the South African team, which had counted on the 23-year-old star both in the 400-meter hurdles and the 1600-meter relay.

Early Arriving Aussie Can't Get In Village

ROME (UPI)—Australian Olympic sculler Stuart MacKenzie, object of a frantic search by Australian Olympic officials in the past week, turned up unexpectedly at the Olympic village Friday—and couldn't get in.

Officials of the Australian Olympic team have been searching for MacKenzie for a week in order to check reports that recurrence of a severe stomach ulcer might prevent him from competing in the world games, beginning Aug. 25.

Friday, MacKenzie turned up unexpectedly at the village, having driven his own car from Como in northern Italy.

But the Australian officials had gone to Naples for the day. No one else had heard of MacKenzie and doorkeepers refused to believe that he was an athlete.

"It took me two hours to convince them who I was and then I found there was nobody else from the Australian team around," he told United Press International.

MacKenzie and a UPI reporter spent half an hour combing the Australian team quarters trying to find a bed set aside for the champion sculler.

When it could not be found the six-foot, six-inch MacKenzie pushed together two other beds and, despite the protests of Italian officials, announced his intention of "sleeping here until somebody does something for me."

"While I was in Switzerland I had a recurrence of the stomach trouble which forced me to undergo an operation earlier this year," he said. "I lost a lot of blood and was weaker than a kitten for a few days and my doctor told me that I'm going to have to have another operation. But I'm going to put that off until after the games, and if the Australian Olympic team doctor passes me as fit, then I'm going to compete."

WOMAN'S WORLD

Series Of Parties Honor Miss Gloria Golsby

Continuing festivities for bride-elect Miss Gloria Golsby, Mrs. Collier C. Murphrey entertained last night at a miscellaneous shower in her home on Lakeshore Drive. White linen over pink covered the tea table, which was centered with a bride doll dressed in satin and lace. The doll held streamers which lead to a miniature wedding bouquet of white lily of the valley and pink roses. Punch was served by Misses Carol Shipp and Joan Jerrigan.

Pink roses were used in the living room on the coffee table and desk, where Miss Colleen Murphrey presided at the bride's book.

The honoree was presented with a white carnation corsage to wear with her white full-skirted cotton dress which was printed with large ed roses.

Invited to the fete were Mrs. L. E. Golsby, Mrs. J. F. Jones Sr., Mrs. W. M. Smith, Mrs. Leonia Murphrey, Mrs. O. G. Hamilton, Mrs. Bernard Kent, Mrs. D. J. On Thursday evening Mrs. W. L. Cash and Mrs. Jerry Hibbard co-hosted a kitchen shower complimentary to Miss Golsby. Green and yellow were used in decorations throughout the Cash home, where the party was held.

Bridal Shower Given To Fete Miss Bowles

Mrs. Herschel Gentry Jr., and Miss Faye Parker were hostesses Wednesday evening at a bridal shower complimentary to Miss Laura Louise Bowles, whose wedding to William Holcomb Pryor will be an event of 3 o'clock this afternoon at St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

Summer flowers filled the living room of the Gentry home, and on the dining room table was a centerpiece of white roses and wedding bells. The honoree wore for the occasion a sheer print dress in orange, yellow and green which featured a full balloon skirt. Her corsage was formed of miniature kitchen implements.

Guests at the party were Mrs. M. C. Carroll, Mrs. Julian Crew, Mrs. B. H. Wade, Mrs. J. D. Moses, Mrs. Gerald Arrant, Mrs. R. E. Harrell, Mrs. G. W. Jordan, Mrs. L. F. EVENING PARTY
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Womack entertained Tuesday evening with a party honoring Miss Golsby and her fiancé, Joel F. Jones III.

Magnolia leaves surrounded a miniature bride and groom in the mantel of the Womack living room. In the dining room white summer blossoms in a silver bowl centered the white-covered table. Flanking the centerpiece were burning white tapers in silver holders. From the chandelier over the table were extended white streamers of satin ribbon which held puffs of white tulle and white wedding bells.

Miss Golsby was presented with a white carnation corsage to wear with her white and green silk organza sheath dress.

Attending the fete were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jones Jr., Mrs. J. F. Jones Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Gerald H. Womack, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Arrant and Miss Dianne Womack.

Engaged Couple Given Barbecue At Peters Home

Miss Audrey Loftin of Holly Ridge and Seaborn DeLee of Rayville were honored last Sunday evening with an informal barbecue hosted by John Peters Jr. in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Peters. For the party, which was held in the back garden of the Peters home on Columbia Road, Miss Loftin wore a white sunback full-skirted dress.

Guests at the party were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Thrasher, Mr. and Mrs. Victor David, Miss Florence Gentry, Buddy Loftin, Larry McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. Peters.

Quota Club To Present Style Show

Miss Letha Johnson, president of the Monroe Quota Club, has named Miss Betty Engstrom, Miss Bertha Cook, and Mrs. David L. Agnew as the committee in charge of the style show and luncheon to be presented August 20 at the Paragon Club.

Full arrangements for the style show have now been completed, and tickets are in the hands of all Quotarians. A full line of fall and winter fashions will be presented, including a collection of "back to school" clothes for tots and teens.

Reservations can be made by telephoning Miss Bertha Cook, FA 2-7512, or through any member of the Quota Club.

Yank Helps Spain With Shoe Market

By NEIL DOUGALL
MADRID (UPI) — An American expert on footwear is perking up the Spanish shoe trade.

Dr. Louis G. Feman, of Jamaica, N. Y., is helping Spain's shoemakers modernize their craft in order to sell more shoes in the United States.

Feman has been here for a year working for the International Cooperation Administration, analyzing the nation's shoe industry, and suggesting changes to makers who want to sell in America. In November, 1959, Feman sent an exhibit of Spanish-made shoes to a national shoe fair in Chicago.

The display of shoes made by the 350 shoemakers from the town of Elda was the outstanding exhibit of the fair, Feman said in an interview.

Spain is a land of small shoe factories. There are nearly 1,500 shoe plants, but only seven of them make more than 500 to 1,000 pairs of shoes a day. The next 120 plants make from 100 to 500 pairs a day while the remainder make less than 100 pairs a day.

Spain's shoe factories produced nearly 600 million pairs of shoes in 1958, an average of 434,000 pairs a factory.

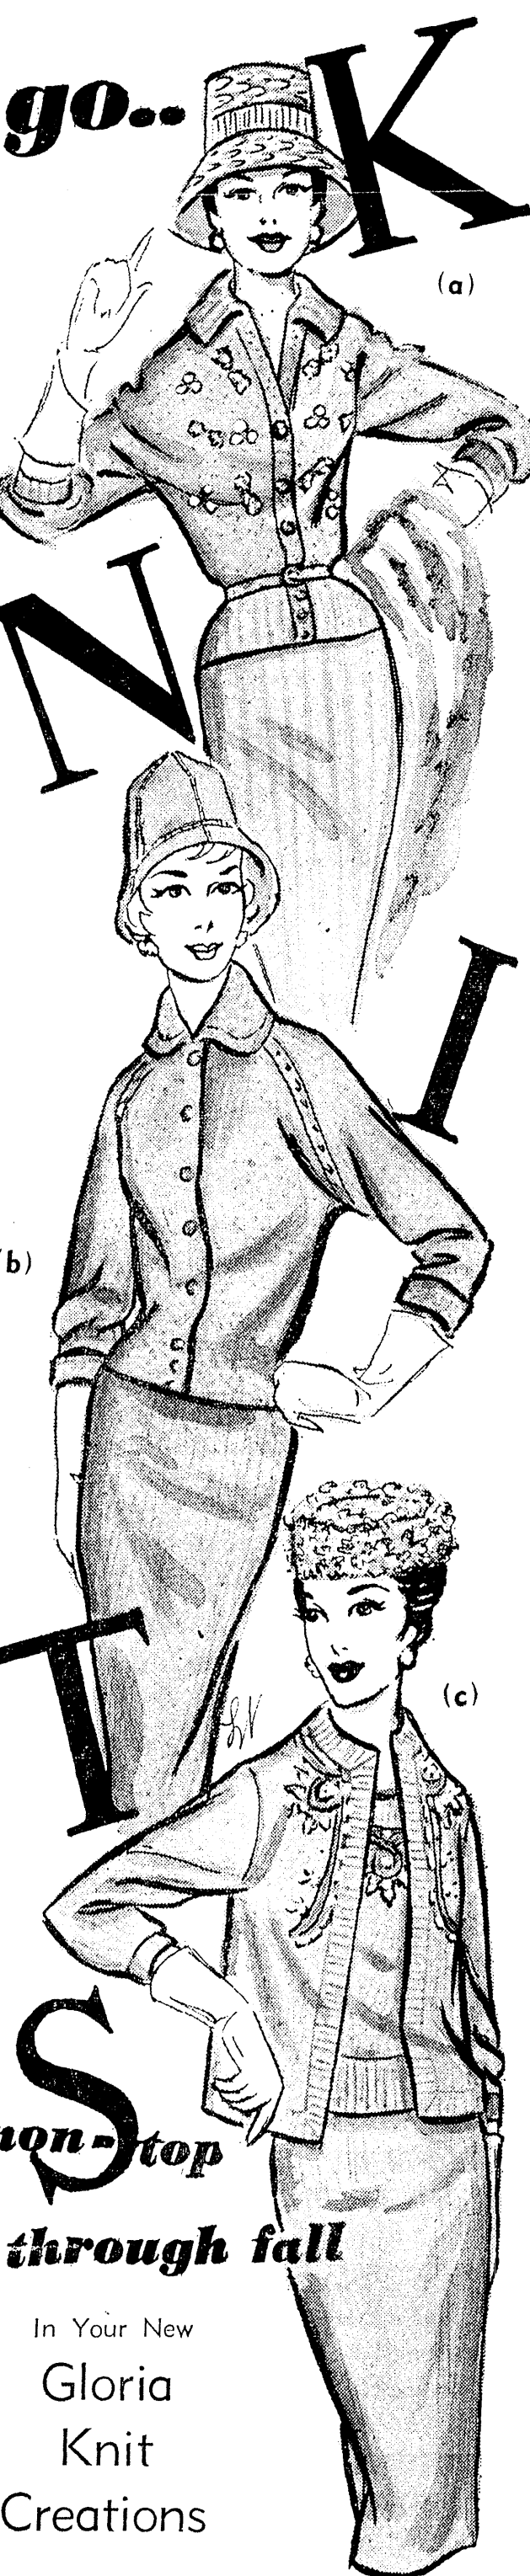

But, Feman said, there is more to shoemaking than mass production. His task, he said, is not to concentrate on increasing the volume of shoes made.

"Spanish craftsmanship in shoemaking is the best in the world and that fine feeling for good handwork should never be lost," he said. "But the shoe economy here does need a booster shot."

"My job is to modernize traditional Spanish craftsmanship so Americans can have shoes that fit well, yet have the benefit of careful handwork."

One of the biggest problems was the poor fit of Spanish shoes by American standards. They are made here in one width in whole sizes, and on lasts which don't allow narrower heel fittings.

Allies Reject Soviet Charges On West Berlin

LONDON (UPI) — The Western Big Three Friday rejected Russian charges that West Berlin is being used to arm the West German army, and accused the Kremlin of "totally disregarding" the special status of Berlin. Britain, France and the United States delivered diplomatic notes to the Kremlin denying the Russian claim made in letters to the Western powers last June 30 that the West German government was recruiting in West Berlin for the new German army. Russia also charged that the recruits were being flown from West Berlin to Germany in allied aircraft.

Trials In Little Rock Dispute Still Pending

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)— One year ago, police repelled a crowd of segregationists marching toward Central High School, which reopened then with token integration after a year's lapse.

Nineteen persons were arrested in the clash. To date, not one has been tried.

The trials on charges of loitering, resisting arrest and peace disturbance have been delayed by legal maneuvers.

The next move is up to the State Supreme Court, now in summer recess. It must rule on an appeal from Municipal Judge Quinn Glover's refusal to grant a change of venue.

The school year, coming after Gov. Orval E. Faubus had closed high schools here in 1958-59 against integration, was peaceful after that opening-day battle. High schools started early to give students a chance to make up for the lapse.

This year they will open in September.

Ashcraft-Tipton Wedding This Afternoon Preceded By After-Rehearsal Fete

Claiming wide interest in the city today is the wedding of Miss Peggy Tipton and Wyche Ashcraft, to be solemnized at 4 o'clock in the First Baptist Church of Bastrop. Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Ashcraft were hosts at a dinner party following the rehearsal for the wedding of their son and Miss Tipton.

White gladioli, white asters and pompons filled a silver and crystal epergne which centered the long white linen - covered table at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club, where the event was held. Flanking the arrangement were three - branch silver candelabra garlanded with white asters and pompons. At each end of the table were two pairs of silver candlesticks holding white tapers and surrounded at the base with pompons.

The honorees chose this occasion to present their attendants with gifts.

Invited to the festive event were Mrs. Benjamin R. Tipton of Bastrop, Miss Katherine Martin, John Tipton, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Tipton Jr., Miss Jean Stark, Howard Hobson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Stowe Harbin, Lester Martin, Miss Sally Fields of Alexandria, Robert Harrison, Miss Sally Speer of Bastrop, J. L. Furlow Jr., Miss Rosemary White, Floyd Miller, William Foster of Amite, Miss Margaret Ann Burt, Mr. and Mrs. John Snell of New Orleans, the Rev. and Mrs. Ray P. Rust of Bastrop, Mrs. Clyde N. Burt of Bastrop, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Foster of Amite, Mr. and Mrs. Keely Greer of Dalton, Georgia, Mrs. Violet Martin and Joseph S. Washburn.

Coffee Party Given To Honor City Visitors

Inspiration for a small informal morning coffee party were the visits last week of Mrs. W. J. Hunsucker and Mrs. Dick Granger of Dallas, Texas, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Moore on Bon Aire Drive. Mrs. Moore hosted the event to introduce her mother, Mrs. Hunsucker and sister, Mrs. Granger, to friends and neighbors.

Colorful fresh fruit were used to make festive the living room of the home for the occasion. On the dining table was a white lace cloth with silver servers and a centerpiece of lavender blossoms.

The invited guests included Mrs. F. L. Harmon, Mrs. John Luffey, Mrs. Vernon Lynch, Mrs. Marcus Mapp, Mrs. Glenn Powers, Mrs. Aaron Seamster, Mrs. A. J. Speece, Mrs. Ed Whitley, Mrs. Merle Roach, Mrs. George Phillips, and Mrs. A. L. Peters.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Self-Centered Wife Fractured By Shopping

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Why is it that the people who have money always win everything? They're lucky at cards, they clean up at the races, win all the door prizes, and it seems like their numbers get picked at every raffle.

I've been to several charity affairs and it never fails. When they call out the winner of the Cadillac, it's always Mrs. Moneybags who already has two.

I've often thought how gracious it would be if one of these rich winners would say, "I'd like to turn back this prize to the organization, and let them auction it off." But they never do.

Please explain this quirk in human nature, and give me your views.—NEVER WON A THING IN MY LIFE

Dear Never: The rich don't always win. It just seems that way. Rich or poor—everyone loves to win. It gives them a feeling of superiority and sets them apart from the crowd. This may be part of the reason some rich people are rich.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a boy 14. Ever since I can remember my mother has been telling us do-dads. I think it's terrible for a woman to build her whole life around shopping.

What can be done about a wife who is so self-centered? —SAM

Dear Sam: There's nothing funny about a double march fracture as many G. I.'s will testify. But it's too bad your wife didn't sacrifice her arches for something worthwhile.

If she loves to walk, I suggest the corridors of a children's hospital, or a home for the aged, or a veteran's hospital. Or she could even join the ranks of the League Of Women Voters who will be hoofing aptly to get the vote out this Fall.

My father's family had a big reunion last weekend and Mom refused to go. She talked my older sister into staying home, but I decided to go with Dad.

Well, I had the time of my life. I met uncles and aunts and cousins who were just wonderful. When I came home and told Mom how swell everybody was she got mad and said I was stupid and that Dad had brainwashed me.

I want to get to know Dad's relatives better but I hate to cause more trouble in our family. There's plenty now. What shall I do? —OPENED EYES

Dear Opened Eyes: A boy 14 is old enough to decide for himself what people are like.

If you think your dad's relatives are swell and want to know them better, you should be permitted to do so with no editorializing from your mother. But don't add fuel to the fire by telling Mom how great Dad's relatives are when you know she dislikes them intensely.

Dear Ann Landers: My friends thing this is very funny. I fail to see the joke. My wife got a double march fracture from shopping in the stores. This is a painful disorder of the foot, which usually comes from excessive walking. She'll be on crutches for several days but the doctor says she'll be able to put on low-heeled shoes soon, which means she'll be pounding the cement again.

We've been married 14 years and have no children. Gloria is a fair housekeeper and cook. But it makes me disgusted that she has no interests except clothes and

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Make Leaving Child Pleasant Ceremony

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

When parents must leave their children for any length of time, they usually try to avoid unpleasantness by slipping away unnoticed. Once they are out of sight whoever is taking care of the children says nothing about the parents, hoping to keep the children from fussing.

One grandmother adopted an entirely different tactic with her 20-month-old grandson—and with real success. The parents did not sneak away, they said goodbye, kissing and waving at the child as they left.

All during their absence of two weeks the grandmother told the child each day, "Mommy and Daddy are on vacation. They'll be back home soon." She repeated this sentence daily and emphasized the "back home."

When they returned their son welcomed them with, "Back home?" As his mother went to the car to unload her belongings he started to whimper and his grandmother said, "He'll be right back." He stopped instantly.

This should work as well for the mother who goes away for the day or for a few hours, or just leaves the room on an errand. From the age of one-year children do develop anxiety when their parents disappear. This is the age when the mother says, "I can't go out of the room, without his screaming," or "No one can take care of him but me."

Perhaps some of this could be avoided if the training were begun early. Wave goodbye to the child. Make it a pleasant ceremony. Accompany it with "Mon-

TIME NOT IMPORTANT

Time is not important to him. Once the parent is out of sight the hours flee away without his being conscious of them. If he has conscientious and loving caretakers, he can go about his business of sleeping, eating and playing without unhappiness.

But do not wait until the child has reached the mother-dependent age. One woman whose husband was leaving early in the morning to catch a train was reminded that the baby would not have to see his Daddy leave.

"Oh, yes," she said, "He has to say goodbye. Then he is perfectly happy about his going." It's all in the training a child gets whether these necessary absences make him miserable, or whether he can wait contentedly for the parent's return.

Khrushchev To Meet Red China Chiefs

LONDON (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev will meet the leaders of Communist China this fall in an effort to repair the frayed Sino-Russian alliance, Communist diplomats reported Friday.

The Communist sources said Khrushchev had accepted an invitation to visit North Korea in October and that he would use the occasion to meet the Chinese Communist leaders either in Korea or in Peking. Moscow radio announced the Korean visit Thursday night.

Khrushchev, who has indicated he would lead the Russian delegation to the United Nations assembly in New York next month to outline new disarmament proposals may proceed directly from the United States to the Far East, it was said.

The apparent absence of a special occasion for the Far Eastern visit—neither a Korean anniversary celebration nor the holding of a Communist party gathering—underlined the political importance of the trip.

Khrushchev apparently intends to review the recent ideological differences with his Chinese allies which have been revived in recent weeks despite a temporary patching up of their quarrel.

But the Communist sources hinted there would be far more far-reaching aspects to the trip than that. He would be expected to review world policy with Communist Chinese leader Mao Tze-tung and Premier Chou En-lai, and possible future moves in the Far East.

New Tires Aimed To Please Milady

By JACK VANDENBERG
DETROIT (UPI) — Motorists can thank the woman driver for the fact that the day of the roadside stop for a flat tire is retreating into history.

That's the word from the nation's largest producer of tires. The company says the fair sex can take most of the credit for new advancements in tires—such as double-chamber safety tires—simply because they demanded it.

The company made market studies and found that the lady of the house is handling more and more of the family errands requiring a car. Her trips are usually short but she often puts more mileage on the family buggy than hubby does.

Fifty years ago, about the only control a woman touched on a car was the door handle. So, at that time there wasn't so much concern about the reliability of car parts, like tires.

Most of the male drivers were mechanically adept and it wasn't such a great problem—although it was an annoyance even to the males—to change a tire.

In 1905, the life of a tire was about 2,000 miles and the cautious motorist carried three spares. By 1912, tires were lasting 3,500 miles and the number of spares was cut to two. By 1935, most tires were good for 25,000 miles and one spare was considered enough.

But even that improvement was nothing like those made in recent years.

And Walter Lee says women drivers are one of two factors involved in the recent spurt in tire development.

The growth of turnpikes and freeways since the second World War, with speeds and the length of trips increasing, would have surely resulted in elimination of the flat tire, regardless of the influence of women.

But—as Lee put it—"I'm the first to admit, that women have speeded up the process."

Speeds would have brought the same results eventually, he said. With all of the dangers involved, motorists can be extremely grateful that the tire companies decided the woman was so frail they couldn't let her drive a car that was apt to have a flat.

Morrison Asks Davis To Reveal School Plans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Mayor DeLesseps Morrison Friday asked Gov. Jimmie Davis to disclose to the city government his plan for keeping New Orleans public schools open and segregated.

Morrison said he feels city officials have a responsibility in the school crisis, although neither he nor the city government has direct authority over school operations.

Orleans Parish schools first grade classes have been ordered integrated by a federal court when the schools open Sept. 8.

Morrison offered the governor "any and all aid that is within our power." He designated city atty. Alvin J. Liska to serve as the city's liaison officer with the state attorney general's office.

FILING DEADLINE NEAR

Time Running Out On Free Electors

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Only 15 days remained Friday for any new political faction to get petitions to the secretary of state to place independent presidential electors on Louisiana's Nov. 8 general election ballot.

This calls for fast work by the unhappy faction of the Democratic Party to get in 1,500 signatures asking a separate list of unpledged electors.

The dissenting group declared the platforms of both national political parties repugnant.

The Democratic State Central Committee voted 51-49 Thursday to remain loyal to the national Democratic ticket of U.S. Sens. John Kennedy of Massachusetts and Lyndon Johnson of Texas.

The deadline for petitions to put electors on the ballot by other than the state's three recognized political parties is Aug. 27.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis, who waged an unsuccessful battle to have the Louisiana Democratic party machinery name unpledged electors, is among those who expressed belief Louisiana voters should get a chance to express their dissatisfaction.

David Treen, New Orleans, chairman of the States Rights State Central Committee, said his group may put unpledged electors on the ballot.

But the way still was open for the States Rights group to name electors pledged to a specific presidential ticket.

Dist. Atty. Leander Perez, of St. Bernard and Plaquemines parishes, said after his attempt to get the Democratic State Central Committee to name unpledged electors failed that he would join forces with the States Rights party to reach the same end.

None of the three recognized political parties in the state had gone through the formalities of filing their certificates of nomination with the secretary of state.

Such certificates to place names of electors on the ballot must be in by Sept. 20, or on the seventh Tuesday before the general election.

Veteran Army

Engineer Dies

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Wilber R. (Bill) Slaughter, a veteran of 25 years with the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, died Thursday night of a heart attack. He was 47.

Slaughter was a native of Camp Hill, Ala., and attended schools in Montgomery, Ala. He served in World War II. This applies to the loyal Democratic party, the Louisiana Republican party and the States Rights party.

Gov. Davis told his news conference this week he had no intention to bolt the Democratic party. This would appear to rule out any alignment by the governor with the States Rights group.

Prospective Students Take Exams

About 235 persons who plan to enter Northeast Louisiana State College next month took guidance and orientation tests at the college Friday.

The tests are required of all freshmen and other entering students, according to Herman R. Sigler, director of testing and guidance.

Three other test dates have been set, Sigler announced. They are Monday, Aug. 22; Friday, Aug. 26; and Saturday, Sept. 3. Sigler said the testing periods had been placed on different days of the week to make it as convenient as possible for entering students.

The tests require most of the day — from 8 a.m. to approximately 4 p.m. Sigler urged persons who plan to enter the college next month to take the tests before registration so that the results may be used by guidance personnel to aid the students during the registration period.

Freshman orientation is scheduled Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 12-13, and registration Sept. 14-15.

Sigler said that, including Friday's group about 540 persons had already taken the tests.

Sales Tax Collections Here Are Up

Ouachita Parish provided the state of Louisiana with a five per cent increase in sales taxes in June, compared with the same month a year ago, according to figures released Friday.

The Louisiana Business Review revealed that Ouachita collections rose 5.7 per cent to $264,365, compared with $250,186 in June, 1959.

West Carroll Parish had the greatest tax increase, on a percentage basis, of all 10 parishes in the Monroe trade area. Tax totals soared 13.6 per cent.

The 10 - parish total increase was 4.5 per cent, or $19,000. Last year, the total was $425,090, while this June it was $444,073.

Dollar collections for June 1960 and June 1959 are given below with 1960 amounts first.
